Soldier of Regular Army and Customs Inspector Fall When Raiders Fight, Losing Five of Small Band That Escapes

MEXICANS SURPRISED AND ATTEMPT TO FLEE

Detachment of Eighth Cavalry Is Aided in Engagement by Men From Company C of N. G. From Massachusetts

EL PASO, July 31.—Two Americans were killed and one was wounded in a clash with Mexican bandits who had crossed the Rio Grande five miles below Fort Hancock, Texas, early this morning. Five of the ten bandits in the party were killed.

Private John Twoney, Troop F, Eighth United States Cavalry, and Robert Woods, a United States customs inspector, were killed. Sergeant Lewis Thompson, Troop F, Eighth Cavalry, was seriously wounded.

More than 200 shots were fired during the engagement, it is reported. The Mexicans, it is believed, had crossed the line in an attempt to steal horses. Their presence was discovered by American outposts. The Mexicans were surprised and attacked by the cavalry patrol. The Mexicans, mounted on good horses, attempted to flee. They were intercepted and forced to fight.

General George Bell Jr., commanding the El Paso military district, said early today that he had learned of the engagement through unofficial sources. He had had no reports from officers of the command, telephone and telegraphic communication being difficult.

Other reports reaching here said that efforts to identify any of the Mexicans had been futile, but it was believed they were members of one of the Villista bands recently reported to have been operating south of the Rio Grande in that section.

Millionaire Wins Divorce Mrs. Fuller Abandons Suit Wife Was Rough, He Claims

Revels at Cafes Detailed to the Court

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—George P. Fuller, of the firm of W. P. Fuller and Company, millionaire paint manufacturer, took the witness stand before Presiding Judge George C. Canine this morning and told how his wife had called him a spy and a sneak and taunted him because he pursued her, anxious eyed and nervous, and surprised her in cafes as late as 4:30 o'clock in the morning. He was given a decree.

Anabelle Lenore Otis Altman Fuller, the wife, was first called but sat in the witness chair only long enough to request that her complaint be withdrawn. She then sat back and listened while a long series of escapades were recounted by her spouse.

Mrs. George P. Fuller, who called her husband a spy and sneak, according to testimony in court, and whom he declares he found in a cafe at 4 a. m. with a strange man.

"We were married at Ross July 2, 1912," Fuller began. "About December 1 of last year my wife began a certain laxity in her life. She would be late for dinner and then she would not come at all. I was ignorant of her whereabouts and anxious and worried. I endeavored to correct her and sometimes she would tell me that she would try to do better and at others, that it was none of my business; she would do what she pleased and go where she pleased. I was constantly upset. I couldn't sleep at night. I used to seek her by automobile, sometimes I would find her and sometimes I would not."

NOT TOO WELCOME. "When I did locate her, I was never a welcome arrival. She would be in a cafe with friends, sometimes family friends and sometimes persons that I did not know. She would greet me with no joy or affection. She would let me know that I wasn't wanted and call me a sneak and a spy."

"Frequently she told me she felt an aversion for me, that she no longer loved me and that my very presence made her sick."

Attorney Charles D. Hanlon inquired of Fuller whether it were true that it was always in the most true (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

King Peter Lives Alone on Island Daily Rides 40 Miles on Motorcycle

PARIS, July 31.—King Peter of Serbia is living almost alone in a small villa on a promontory of the Isle of Dubrovnik, in the Aegean sea, according to a correspondent of the Journal. The king, who is 72 years old, arises at 4 a. m. every day and rides forty miles on a motorcycle around the island. Referring to the war, he said to his French interviewer:

"Your generals are far better than the generals of the enemy. They have less routine and more talent. As for the men, it is enough to cry the word 'France' to intoxicate a whole army with confidence."

"There are two patriotisms. One consists of having the country of other people; the other in loving one's own. France's patriotism is of the latter sort. The victory of France is going to re-establish the harmony of the world."

TEN DEAD, RECORD OF EXPLOSION

Two Arrested for Responsibility for Disaster That Caused Loss of at Least $25,000,000 and Damage in Three Cities

NEW YORK, July 31.—Two men are under arrest today on warrants charging them with manslaughter in the explosion of the Lehigh Valley railroad station at Black Tom yesterday morning. Estimates of the casualties early today placed the number of dead at four, with three others mortally injured, thirty-five suffering from less serious injuries and eleven seriously injured. Estimates of the property loss range from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Among the dead is Cornelius J. Leiden, chief of the Lehigh Valley railroad police. Late today police officials and officials of the Lehigh Valley railroad made a careful examination of their records, placed their extreme estimate of dead at ten.

Many persons who were on board barges moored at the burned piers are missing and it is feared that they have perished. In some quarters it was noted that the actual number of dead would reach thirty.

Those under arrest are Albert W. Dickman, agent of the Lehigh Valley railroad stationed at Black Tom pier; and Alexander Davidson, superintendent of the warehouses of the National Storage Company. Thirteen of which were destroyed by the fire caused by the explosions. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Theodore B. Johnson, president of a lighting company, a barge of which, loaded with ammunition, is alleged to have been moored at the pier.

LAW VIOLATED. Frank Hague, commissioner of public safety of Jersey City, charged that the blame for the explosion lay either with the Lehigh Railroad Co., the storage company or the lighterage company, and that some one of them had violated the laws of New Jersey. The Jersey City ordinance and the rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission by permitting barges loaded with explosives to remain moored at the piers over night. These barges were being used to transport the ammunition to steamers lying in the harbor.

Several investigations were begun today to discover the origin of the fire which caused the explosion. One of the investigations is under Colonel Beverly Dunn, chief inspector of the Bureau of Explosives of the American Railway Association, and the other is under the Interstate Commerce Commission. He is aided by the police. The county prosecutor and city authorities in Jersey City are making investigations also. It is understood that agents of the Department of Justice are making inquiries to learn whether the explosion was the work of an incendiary.

Conflicting reports as to the cause of the fire are still circulated. Lehigh Valley officials assert that an interlocking barge loaded with ammunition was moored at their pier in defiance of their orders, and the explosion took place on board that vessel. The commissioner of public safety says that four ammunition barges were at or near the piers and that all of them were destroyed. It is feared their crews perished.

MASS OF RUBIN. The big pier just west of the Statue of Liberty is today a mass of smoking ruins with the debris piled hundreds of feet high in places and with the fire still burning.

The work of repairing the damage to the buildings on Bedloe's and Ellis islands and in New York and Jersey City began today. The immigration station at Ellis Island had the appearance of a war swept village with every window shattered, the roof of the hospital caved in, the main door blown away and the dining and executive rooms wrecked while the island was strewn with bits of shrapnel, broken glass and three-inch shells thrown ashore from drifting barges which had bombarded the island as they burned. The damage was estimated at $75,000.

The buildings on Bedloe's Island shattered showed the marks of an eight-hour bombardment of shrapnel, iron bolts and spikes, pieces of steel and full of holes while the homes of the army officers are stripped of their chimneys and walls and plaster are shattered. The loss there is estimated at $100,000. The Statue of Liberty virtually is undamaged, but the doors to the pedestal are blown.

Stories told by those who narrowly escaped death verge on the miraculous. One man says he was blown off a lighter into the bay and swam back again to the Jersey shore when the flaming barges bombarded the island. "The air seemed to be full of flame and I thought the end of the world had come," said another survivor. A third was blown fifty feet from the top of a freight car and landed near a building which fell upon him.

WELL INSURED. At least $10,000,000, probably $15,000,000, damage, was caused by the destruction of thirteen of the eighteen warehouses of the National Storage Co., in Jersey City, Edmund L. Mackenzie stated today. This loss would be covered by insurance. "The damaged goods included 30,000 tons of raw sugar, valued at between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000, and

Colonel Hunt, who retires after fifteen years' service, will leave the guard with high honors, being placed on the retired list with the rank of brigadier-general.

AUSTRO-GERMAN MAIN ARMIES IN FULL FLIGHT NOW

All Allied Fronts Report Making Gains in Most Violent Fighting.

PETROGRAD, July 31.—In the region of Brody on the Volynia and Galicia frontier, Russian troops are pursuing the Austro-German main armies, it was officially announced here today and have reached the rivers Gruberki and Zereh. Northeast and southeast of Baranovitch, the Austro-German forces are in retreat, and the Russian operations were in progress. From the Caucasus, the Grand Duke Nicholas reported further advance from Erzingan and repulse of a Turkish attack directed toward Mosul, in the region of Diyarbakir.

The war office asserted that in the region of the Stockholmer river the Russian forces were fighting their way forward. At one point among the prisoners captured in this thrust was the whole thirty-first honved Austrian Regiment, including the commander and his staff. At other places along the Stockholmer, 355 Teutons were captured with three machine guns.

PARIS, July 31.—Violent German attacks along the Somme around Moncu and from wood were checked with terrible losses to the attackers, according to the official communiqué today. French troops are consolidating and strengthening positions, which they won yesterday north of the Somme in a sweep forward which took German positions along nearly a four-mile front.

LONDON, July 31.—Further British advance at points north of Bazentin-le-Petit was announced by General Douglas Haig today.

"As the result of local encounters," he said, "our posts have advanced at points north of Bazentin-le-Petit."

"The night spent in improving the positions was a very successful one," the British commander-in-chief continued. "There were no further developments."

Central Powers Say Assaults Are Repulsed

PERLIN, July 31.—Anglo-French in their attack Sunday against the German positions in the region of the river Somme, did not gain a foot of ground, according to the German army headquarters staff in its statement issued today.

"The German troops," the statement said, "in attack Sunday against the Anglo-French headquarters, under order of July 30, reads as follows: 'Russian theater: The battles in East Galicia and in Volhynia continue with undiminished violence. In East Galicia, especially in the region of the northwestern of Kolomoia, and west and northwest of Buczacz, the struggle is bitter. The enemy continued his efforts both day and night, but all failed under the heaviest losses.'

"Russian attacks between Bereste and the Stockholmer, resulting in a great loss of life, had no success whatever. In most cases the attacks were stopped by our artillery and infantry fire."

"Where the Russians entered temporarily our trenches, as they did to the west of Lutsk (north of Kolomoia), they were ejected by a counter-attack."

Deutschland's Men Fear Trouble in Bay

RAITIMORE, Md., July 31.—Official and unofficial spies were scattered down the Patuxent today by the Germans to protect the submarine fleet from the British. This counter movement was taken in view of the United States government refusal to convey the submarine to the capes.

The fact that one of the allied watch boats had disappeared had served to heighten the fear of the Germans. Promoters feared she will lurk down the bay to ram the submarine.

Pope Acknowledges Failure of Peace Plans

ROME, July 31.—The failure of the Pope's appeals to the warring nations for peace was acknowledged by the Pontiff in addressing a delegation of the south of Rome yesterday. The delegation prayed for peace in accordance with the Pope's appeal to the children of the whole world to appeal to God on the last Sunday of the second year of the struggle to end the war.

France Acquiesces in Poland Proposal

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Ambassador Sharp at Paris called the State Department today that "France acquiesces in the recent note of Great Britain offering to permit the shipment of American relief supplies into portions of Poland occupied by Teutonic forces, on condition that the occupying armies would not seize or remove native food products."

SAN MATEO EXPLOSION IS CREDITED TO BILLINGS

Suitcase Containing Dynamite Found at Power Towers Is Said by Detectives to Belong to Bomb Suspects

VALUABLE PAPER FOUND BY POLICE

Document Said to Contain Evidence of Most Important Nature Is Seized by Investigators and Kept Secret

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Warren K. Billings was closely linked with the blowing up of several power carrying towers of the United Railroads in San Mateo county several months ago by the identification this morning of a suitcase found by private detectives and containing 24 sticks of dynamite as belonging to him. This suitcase has been in the hands of the police since the towers were destroyed and according to District Attorney Fickert its identification will result in placing upon Billings the responsibility for those outrages.

In a raid today officials of the district attorney's office confiscated a document believed to be a letter that they say contains a copy of the most important and the contents of which will not be revealed until the bomb plotters are placed on trial.

"It would weaken our case and supply the defense with too much ammunition," said a district attorney official. "I tell anything more about that paper," said a district attorney official.

There was much jubilation at headquarters over the seizure of the document where it evidently was considered a triumph for the investigators. Where the raid occurred is being kept a closely guarded secret and the detectives concerned have been instructed to give no information.

KOHN NOT TO BE CHARGED. Chief of Police White was authorized by the statement that he believed Julius Kohn, the alleged Austrian agitator, was not very closely identified with the gang and intimated that he would not be included among those charged with murder. It was also generally rumored that the police contemplate the early release of Mrs. Belle Lavin, one of the first persons taken into custody in connection with the bomb outrage. Mrs. Lavin was arrested only because she has been charged with murder in connection with the bomb outrage. Chief White instructed Captain Matheson at noon to make a diligent inquiry as to whether it would be possible to summon the grand jury and if not to charge every one of the suspects, except Kohn and Mrs. Lavin, with murder.

"There is no use waiting any longer," said the chief. "They are all in it, every one of them. I think we have all the proof we need. We might as well go right ahead with the trial."

It was intimated that the investigating bureau would be kept on for some time and that private detectives would be called in to investigate five issues in which some of the principals are concerned. Chief White has asked the supervisor for $500 with which to probe these by-ways and believes that with sleuths unknown to the rank and file of criminals he can get to the bottom of many apparent mysteries.

DELAY SAVED THEM. The postponement of the start of the preparatory parade July 22 from 1 to 1:30 o'clock was directly responsible for the shifting of the scene of the explosion and caused the disruption of well-laid plans of the conspirators, according to a declaration of Captain Duncan Matheson this morning.

That the infernal machine was intended for the marching cohorts of the United Railroads, that it was timed for the exact moment when it was figured the platform men would be passing the building at 721 Market street, and that when it was found that the start had not yet been made, the plotters hastened to a spot nearer the beginning of the parade, because the time clock was set for an explosion at 2:05 p. m., are all embodied in the theory which has been adopted by the police and district attorney.

WILL CONSTITUTE TESTIMONY. This much of the evidence and the names of the principals will constitute the line of testimony to be presented before the grand jury in the hope that indictments will be returned against Warren K. Billings, Thomas J. Mooney, Mrs. Mooney, Julius Kohn, Israel Weinberg and Julius Kohn, alias Louis Kostner. Edward J. Nolan is not known to have taken any part in the actual denouement, according to the revelations thus far made by the investigators.

At the coroner's inquest, called for tomorrow morning, no evidence whatever will be presented against the principals and the perpetrators of the outrage. The present plan of the district attorney is to merely establish the facts of the wholesale murder resulting from the exploding of the infernal machine. The autopsy surgeon, the bomb expert and the police who figured in the action following

Mrs. George P. Fuller, who called her husband a spy and sneak, according to testimony in court, and whom he declares he found in a cafe at 4 a. m. with a strange man.

WOMAN HIT BY PASSING AUTO TRUCK

Police Are Seeking Man Who Violated Law and Caused Injury to Passenger When She Was Leaving Street Car

While Mrs. Edwin Frankish lies in a critical condition at her home, 1635 Twelfth avenue, the police are seeking the driver of a delivery motor truck who ran her down at Twenty-third and Grove streets last evening. The woman is in a precarious condition. She has internal injuries.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Frankish alighted from a Grove street car. A number of automobiles stopped when the car came to a standstill, but the truck driver sent his car ahead and Mrs. Frankish was knocked down. The woman was removed to a nearby house, and later taken to her home.

J. W. Martin, 921 East Twelfth street, was also seriously injured by an automobile last night. The car was driven by C. E. Hughes, and the accident occurred at East Twelfth street and Tenth avenue, while Martin was crossing the street. He has a fractured skull.

Three persons—a woman and two men—received slight injuries yesterday afternoon when a car driven by Mrs. Mary Silveria, 327 Myrtle street, crashed into a motorcycle ridden by John Gooey, 1830 Sixteenth street, and John Gandy, 1519 Center street. The accident occurred on West Seventh street, while Gooey was driving the motorcycle into a garage. No one was seriously injured.

VEILS EVIDENCE.

"We do not at this time intend to expose our hand," said Captain Matheson. "We will make the coroner's investigation a purely formal inquiry without producing our evidence and we will disclose to the grand jury only a sufficient amount of testimony to bring a favorable vote on the indictments we hope will be returned."

"We have reconstructed in our minds exactly what happened on the afternoon of July 22.

"Billings was on the roof of the building at 721 Market street. He had the bomb and it was timed to explode. Suddenly from the street below he was called frantically. Mrs. Mooney, her husband and Kohn were in Weinberg's car and they all yelled upon to him to come down. They realized that the United Railroad employees would not be marching past the place, as they had figured the parade was to start at 1:30 instead of 1 o'clock. With the time clock set they sped down towards the ferry. It was almost the minute for the bomb to explode. They didn't know what to do. They were excited. They placed the suitcase against the side of the building. The marchers were not far off, but there had been no time to figure. They took a chance and ran. We luckily gathered them in."

HOOR ADVERTISED.

The preparedness parade program sold on the streets contained the announcement that the procession would move at 1 o'clock, and evidently the conspirators had failed to notice the half-hour's postponement. It was this that completely disarranged their plans and led to the bomb missing the mark intended for it, according to the theories of the police. It was announced this morning that there was some doubt as to whether the grand jury would meet tonight, as the foreman has not been located. The police are still continuing their search for Billings' partner and associate, whose identity they have not disclosed, and whom they believe was also in Weinberg's machine and may have participated in the planting of the bomb.

Captain Matheson instructed Detectives Burke and Riehl and Patrolman Hughes to procure from the bond and warrant clerk a warrant charging Nolan with murder. Attorney William Hoff Cook made application to presiding Judge Cabanis this morning for a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of Edward

D. Nolan, labor leader, suspected of complicity in the bomb plot. The court made the writ returnable Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, and Captain Matheson went into consultation with District Attorney Fickert as to what moves would be made.

Israel Weinberg, jitney bus driver, charged with murder, was in two courts this morning. Presiding Judge Cabanis dismissed the writ of habeas corpus over the protest of his counsel, Attorney Reiser, on the showing of the chief of police that he was fully charged with the crime. Police Judge John J. Sullivan continued Weinberg's preliminary examination for one week at the behest of the prosecution.

Pastor Condemns Words of Goldman

Referring to the recent bomb outrage as "the shame of San Francisco," Rev. Francis J. Van Horn, pastor of the First Congregational church, in a prelude to his evening sermon last night, declared that the real responsibility for the crime should be placed upon some of the men high in authority charged with the duty of protecting the safety and honor of the community. "If they had performed their duties," he said, "the abuse of free speech which has prevailed would not have wrought such havoc in its direct influence upon the slime of the underworld."

"Emma Goldman has abused her rights as an American and has made a determined and life-long opposition to every doctrine of Americanism and Christianity. She has aimed away her right to free speech in which we all believe. Not that I hold her personally responsible for the shame of San Francisco."

"You have but to look over Miss Goldman's record and you will find she has abused and forfeited the right of free speech on the subjects she has chosen to expound. Liberty-loving people have a right to prohibit speeches to which may be traced such disasters as the one which so recently shocked us."

"We are splitting hairs when we say that she is entitled to consideration under the free speech idea. Why should we encourage treason? Liberty should never be broadened into license. For that reason I protest against her presence in this city and I believe that she should not be allowed to deliver her advertised address tomorrow night."

The Rev. John M. Jackson, pastor of the Eighth-avenue Methodist church, who was one of the speakers at the recent anti-militarist meeting in Idora park, preached last evening on the San Francisco bomb outrage. He forcibly condemned the act as the work of a fanatic and expressed the abhorrence of all right-thinking people for such a demonstration of malignant hatred.

"There are many viewpoints from which this crime may be considered," he said, "but to my mind the one which is all important is the Christian. Surrounded by the spirit of life as taught us by Christ, we can more readily understand what our future course must be—that we should draw all men to a Christian fellowship wherein such outrages would be impossible."

"There are not terms strong enough in our human language to express the repugnance and abhorrence with which we regard such a dastardly crime as this."

Victims of Bomb Fight for Life

Lying in the San Francisco hospital with a shattered left leg, John Brady, the Spanish War veteran who was injured by the explosion of the bomb during the preparedness parade, is still in a precarious condition. Dr. H. C. Naffziger declares that there is danger that he may not recover even if the limb is amputated.

Miss Pearl Seaman, who was injured so seriously that one of her legs was amputated, is reported to be very little improved in the last two days. She is still weak and does not rally from the shock as she should.

A. B. Anderson, of San Anselmo, another Spanish War veteran, is in danger of losing his leg at St. Mary's hospital. Attending surgeons are deferring amputation in the hope that the limb may be saved.

Henry J. Clausen of Alameda has not yet recovered from the injury to his left foot. Alvah Powell and G. L. Lazofsky are also sufferers from injuries to the left leg, but are expected to recover without amputation.

Miss Smith to Be Important Witness

The identification of Mrs. Rena Mooney by Miss Estelle Smith, the stenographer, as the woman whom she saw in company with Warren K. Billings in the office building at 721 Market street shortly before the explosion of the bomb during the preparedness parade was the most important development of the investigation yesterday. Miss Smith declared that she could not be mistaken, as she recollected both the face and the hat which Mrs. Mooney was wearing—a coarse straw weave covered with a film of lace. As Miss Smith has already positively identified Billings as the man she saw carrying a suitcase, she will be the most important witness for the prosecution.

District Attorney Fickert declares that the links of evidence and inference connecting Billings with Thomas and Rena Mooney and Isaac Weinberg, the jitney bus driver, are very strong. "I believe," he said, "that Mrs. Mooney waited upstairs at 721 Market street, while Mooney and Weinberg waited down on the street. When the head of the parade came by, Mrs. Mooney, fearing that Billings, entrusted with the planting of the bomb, had failed in his purpose, ran up the stairs and instructed that her husband and Weinberg should go and investigate."

U. S. PLANNING TO FIGHT FOR TRADE

Officials See Commercial War Plans in British Blacklist.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The blow launched against the British blacklist in the American note published today is but the first act of aggressive move for this country's share in world trade, now and after the war, officials intimated today.

Government officials are inclined to see in the blacklist the allies' preliminary step in a trade war against Germany, which was clearly outlined at the economic conference at Paris some weeks ago. The necessity of keeping clear of "the war after the war" and of showing England that the United States as a neutral will not participate in, nor allow herself to become victim of, any such move, is understood to have been one underlying reason for the American blacklist protest.

The far-reaching effect of the blacklist upon neutral trade and the fact that the trade war to follow military peace may contain even more serious consequences to neutrals, determined the administration to enter a vigorous protest against the principle involved. It was feared the United States might be considered committed to the allied trade policy through keeping silent.

It is for this reason that England's preliminary reply to the protest, given the State Department Saturday, is unsatisfactory to the government. In it the British foreign office took up only the question of immediate application and extent of the blacklist, without meeting this government's contention against the principle.

respectable downtown cafes that his wife met with her friends. He had the Portola, Louvre, Talis and Teahaus.

"No, there were other cafes," retorted Fuller. "I found her once at the Casino at 4 o'clock in the morning."

"Who was she with?" inquired Hanlon.

"With a gentleman I did not know."

"There is no allegation of improper conduct, is there?" asked the court.

"No," was the response. Continuing, Fuller detailed his repeated searches and wild pursuits of his wife, until Judge Cabanis inquired what she said to him when he caught up with her.

"She would laugh heartily sometimes. She enjoyed having me chase her," returned Fuller. Particular stress was laid by Attorney Harry McKannay, representing Fuller, upon a certain race down the peninsula by Mrs. Fuller when she hired a racing car, and with a special chauffeur, took to the speed paths.

"It was not until long after she had gone that I learned her whereabouts," Fuller testified. "Then we waited for her return about 8:30. She scratched and fought and kicked and struggled while we tried to get her from the racer into our own car, and she kept up the battle all the way home."

Judge Cabanis called attention to an allegation regarding Mrs. Fuller's adoption of a 12-year-old girl, over objection, and said that in his opinion

"Mrs. Fuller one time hired a racing car and a special chauffeur and started down the peninsula. We waited for her return. She scratched and fought and kicked and struggled while we tried to get her from the racer into our own car and she kept up the battle all the way home." — From Millionaire Fuller's testimony in divorce case today.

it reflected credit upon her and should not be used against her. "But you don't know it all," hastily interjected Fuller. "She dragged that girl around to the cafes. She was not a proper person to look out for her, in my opinion."

COSTLY EXPERIENCE.

Following testimony to the effect that since the separation of the couple the last of March, Mrs. Fuller had contracted exorbitant bills contrary to an express agreement, including one of $5950 with a local jewelry firm, Fuller left the stand.

The matter of counsel fees was broached and it was agreed that Attorney Hanlon should have $7500. The property rights were determined out of court and it is understood that Mrs. Fuller is to receive in excess of $50,000, which was her first demand.

The court took occasion to explain to the wife that as she had not asked alimony she must make any further claims against her spouse.

In her original complaint, Mrs. Fuller charged the manufacturer with mental cruelty and left the palatial home on Valencia street, going to live quietly in an apartment in the Mission. About the same time Fuller went to the Palace hotel, but returned to his home on learning of his wife's departure.

During February he spent two weeks at the Palace, but the couple patched up their differences at that time and it was thought that a reconciliation had taken place.

The only corroborating witness was W. P. Fuller, brother of the plaintiff and senior member of the firm.

thousands of bales of tobacco. On consignments of munitions and other supplies going to France, loss will fall on insurance companies, owing to the fact that policies issued to the French government cover shipments from the beginning of the trip until delivery. English shipments are insured only "in waterside" in New York, while in the case of shipments to Russia, policies are written both ways.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Nothing to indicate other than accidental cause for the explosion of yesterday morning in New York harbor has been found by federal agents. A. Bruce Bielaski, head of the department of justice bureau of investigation, said today this is the report given him by agents of his bureau at work on the case. Unless members of the New York staff of the bureau find something to indicate the burning of the stores of allied explosives was due to outside interference, Bielaski said, the bureau will not take any further steps.

GERMANS IN SPIRIT OF CONFIDENCE

People Are for Peace With Those Terms They Believe They Are Entitled to, as Virtual Victors of Great Conflict

By CARL W. ACKERMAN.

BERLIN, July 31.—An American diplomat recently declared the greatest mistake in the war is the use of the term "militarism." "No one," he said, "will ever agree on what it means and it is going to be difficult to end the war because of that."

The spirit of the German people during the last year cannot be shown without discussing "German militarism." In outlining the people's attitude toward the war, the Kaiser and the government, militarism will not be justified or criticized. Recent developments in Germany will be discussed in their relation to what is generally termed Germany's military party.

At the beginning of the war there was great enthusiasm throughout Germany. More than a million men volunteered to fight. During the first year they fought hard, died or were wounded. The people at home began to economize. This spirit carried the armies far into France and Russia.

LESS ENTHUSIASM

During the second year this enthusiasm has not been so great, but the determination of the people has not abated. They want peace at once, if they can obtain reasonable terms of peace. If they had to vote to go on until they can get these terms or to stop and accept the terms of the enemy, they would vote to go on.

Germany wants peace because Germany believes she has won the war. There are critics and grumblers dissatisfied with everything. Every belligerent has about as many as the other. The difference is that in England they grumble publicly, in Germany they cannot, and when people cannot criticize publicly, they do it twice as hard privately.

The people are individually interested in the war because every person has some relative at the front. The best indication of the public support of the war is the vote of the Reichstag in June of the new war credit of two billion marks. There was less opposition to it than to the one before. The Socialists supported it for the fourth time and Socialists members of the Reichstag are in hourly touch with public sentiment.

At the beginning of the war there were three public leaders of the group of poli-

ENGLAND IS BEING UNITED BY WAR

Opposing Political Factions Are Working for Common Cause.

By ED L. KEEN.

LONDON, July 31.—Some Britons are born patriots, others achieve patriotism, and still others—Yes, the paraphrase holds good all the way through. Only, those who have had patriotism thrust upon them constitute a very small minority of the British public.

Conscription is no criterion. There were less than a million eligibles left to be conscripted. The majority of these would have volunteered if the reasons why their services were required had been freely, frankly stated. "The military powers thought they couldn't take the British public into their confidence without enlightening the Germans. 'Your king and country need you,' they said. 'That sufficed for five million men; the others wanted details.'"

But this installment of war anniversary observations has to do principally with those who have achieved patriotism, and it revolves largely about a man named Ben Tillett—because he is a type.

WAS TROUBLE-MAKER

Ben used to vie with Mrs. Pankhurst for the doubtful distinction of being "Trouble-Maker-in-Chief of the British Empire." As head of the Dockers' Union and organizer of the powerful Transport Workers' Federation, he had successfully engineered some most disturbing strikes. There were serious labor disputes in Belgium called in America, "Imperialists." The Republican party in America, for instance, has been known as the Imperialist party. Germany had a Republican party. The "Uncle Joe" Cannon of this party was von Hindenburg, a Conservative-Annexionist member of the Reichstag. The "big navy" man was Grand Admiral von Tirpitz. The "big army" men were General von Moltke and General von Bernhardi.

What has happened has been written on the pages of the press every day since the last year of the war. The Chancellor has won against the "Republicans" and "Standpatters," the Annexionists, the Trouble-Makers, the Fire-Enterers and all the other brands of politicians in this class in Germany, where they are present just as they are in every other country in the world.

That is the reason the spirit of the German people as a whole is good.

The TRIBUNE publishes today the fourth of a series of articles written by special correspondents of the United Press and dealing with the various effects of the European war on the belligerents. The series today has to do with the war's effect on the political conditions of the various nations.

The early days—two of them, big, involving the Welsh coal-miners and the Clyde shipworkers. But in these there were other causes than lack of patriotism. The strikers felt that they had been unduly exploited. Their sole demand was that they be accorded a reasonable share of the war profits from their labor. In both the big strikes, the men won.

This year's disturbance on the Clyde was different. But in these there were other causes than lack of patriotism. The strikers felt that they had been unduly exploited. Their sole demand was that they be accorded a reasonable share of the war profits from their labor. In both the big strikes, the men won.

LABOR'S ATTITUDE

As to the attitude of British labor generally toward the war. No fewer than 4,500,000 of the five million volunteer soldiers were drawn from the working classes. But this is only part of the story.

Most of the Irish opposition in the war is of American origin. There are no finer patriots in Great Britain today than John Redmond and Sir Edward Carson, each representing extreme poles of Irish politics. The Sinn Féin rebels, organized by well-meaning but misguided idealists, encouraged by self-expatiated Irishmen in America, financed by Germany, was not an expression of Irish national sentiment. No troops in the whole empire have fought more gallantly or suffered greater losses than the Irish regiments. Altogether Great Britain is showing a more firmly united front today than when the war started or than a year ago.

RUSSIA

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS.

PETROGRAD, July 31.—Twenty-four months of war has made a new country of Russia. The spirit of the people has changed. Confirmed pessimists admit that the war has worked a miracle.

Two years ago, when fighting began, Russia like England and France, was torn by internal dissension. Her many races were at odds. A strike of serious proportions was on. Things looked dark for the empire.

Russia today is more united than she ever has been. She is better organized. Every city and town in the land belongs to a Municipal Union to aid the nation. Every village and rural district has joined a second and similar organization. In all Russia, including Siberia, there is scarcely a single peasant not working for the army or some public good.

Up to August, 1914, of nearly 200 million Russian subjects, few had taken direct part in any public or national work. They are today nearly all doing their bit. This fact is lending a brand new tone to the empire.

BLESSING IN DISGUISE

A war of gigantic proportions makes or breaks a participant. For Russia this one promises to be a blessing in disguise, according to notoriously conservative thinkers here who believe they see in the wartime spirit of the public the commencement of unprecedented developments. Here is what happened in the Duma when the war broke out:

On August 5, a week after hostilities began, the two houses met at the Winter Palace of the Czar. The Emperor made a short speech, saying:

"I am persuaded that all of you will be in your place to assist me to support the test, and that all beginning with myself, will do their duty. Great is the God of the Russian Fatherland."

A great cheer went up from the Duma. One by one party leaders came forward and pledged themselves to work for the common good. Even Purielikhvich, the implacable leader of the anti-semites, abandoned his private animosity to the Duma and placed the army's interests first.

Citizen organizations for aiding Russia make war have made it possible for millions to take part in public work who until now never knew what such work was like. This is boosting the spirit of the country wonderfully.

COMMITTEE AT WORK

There is another group of citizen workers called the War Industry Committee. The committee organizes and directs the work of the middle-sized down to the tiniest shops capable of manufacturing munitions. With the big works the government can work directly, but not so with the tiny ones scattered over the empire. The War Industry Committee does this.

Automatically for the war the word "achievement"—"what does it matter?" is fast becoming obsolete. Labor for the common good has put the Russian in a very cheerful frame of mind and thinks do matter a lot with him. He has greater confidence in himself. He is more independent.

Russia has been accused of being too Oriental. If this charge was true, this also can be taken as true: She is moving further westward every day.

ALL FRANCE HAS GIVEN GOLD HOARD

Spirit of People Responds to Demand of War and Treasure Is Sacrificed.

By HENRY WOOD.

PARIS, July 31.—"There is not a single piece of gold to be found in my house today."

With eyes flashing pride and voice vibrating with enthusiasm these words were pronounced to me by Professor Alcide Betaine of No. 10 Boulevard Montparnasse. I picked him at random to tell me something of the spirit of the French people after two years of war.

Professor Betaine has grown gray in the public school service of France. He is entitled to retire on a pension but his battle is proud to be able to say: "For the first time in my life and in generations in the history of my family, there is not a single gold piece to be found in my house today. I have turned it all in to the Bank of France for the National Defense."

The least of Professor Betaine today is the least of practically every publicist in France. Within the last year the French voluntarily have exchanged for flimsy French bank notes over $325,000,000 gold. This stream of gold has been flowing for a year and is still flowing at from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 a week. Such is the spirit of the French after two years of war.

It is the "little hoard of gold" on which every French household is built. Gold, in the popular French conception, is the one real, tangible thing in life on which anyone under any circumstances, can always count. It is the family's life, death, accident, health, marriage and disaster insurance in one.

Knowing all this, the government did not hesitate to ask for it. But it asked, it did not command. It knew that however much gold meant to its sons and daughters, "La Patrie" meant much more. But in this war there were no gold pieces in France and elsewhere an article of presumed German origin explaining why the war with France could not last long.

The French common people, it asserted, would never permit the war to reach a point where it would effect other their regular sources of income or the amount of their savings. Such a thing would be unthinkable.

That was one of the things the Germans counted on for a short campaign in France before turning to smite Russia. Germany was mistaken as in the Irish rebellion, Canadian secession and Mohammedan uprising in English colonies. The French population has placed patriotism before pocket books.

This is far from telling all the story of the possibilities of French thrift. It has enabled them to do far more than give the government gold. The French people have also subscribed some $3,000,000,000 to France's famous "Loan of Victory."

Europe has never before seen the spirit of the French people. Minister of Finance Ribot has just estimated that there are being held in France no less than $120,000,000 of foreign bonds and securities. These would be of the most supreme value to France in enabling her to offer them as security for her large purchases of war and other material in foreign countries, without diminishing her gold reserve and without suffering the terrible rate of exchange—it is nearly 20 per cent in the United States caused by the disproportion of her importations over her exports.

So France has asked—not ordered as has been necessary in England—her people to loan her these $120,000,000 of foreign securities until after the war. The response has been the same as to the request for gold and for war subscriptions.

The Bank of France has been obliged to open special offices in all principal cities and villages of France to receive these securities and so great is the number turned in and so fast have they come, that the Bank of France, at the moment this article is being written, is unable to give any figures on the amount up to date. It estimates that it will receive $120,000,000 worth.

Dredger Makes Trip Atlantic to Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—After a voyage of nearly 5000 miles from Baltimore, the tugboat, the United States hydraulic suction dredger, San Pablo, built at Skinner's Shipyard, Baltimore, for the purpose of deepening the channel from San Pablo bay to Mare Island, has arrived in port. The trip which was completed yesterday occupied 24 days. Captain John Moreno of San Francisco is in command and her second officer is Alfred Kittleson, who was second officer of the steamer Edna, formerly the Mazatlan, which was captured by the British off the Falkland Islands. The dredger was built for the San Pablo bay work by the government at a cost of $200,000. She is 115 feet long, 15 feet beam, 65 feet and 534 gross tonnage. According to tests made as soon as she was completed her dredging capacity is 500 cubic yards in 25 minutes. She left Baltimore June 26.

ITALY

By JOHN H. HEARLEY.

ROME, July 31.—Italy celebrated the first anniversary of the war recently offers the best impression of Italy's spirit.

The event was everywhere celebrated with splendid shows of patriotic enthusiasm. The capital and other Italian cities made holidays to observe the occasion most fittingly.

The Roman Corso staged a shouting, singing and gesticulating procession of almost 200,000 people.

The populace, the military and government and civic officialdom took part. Flag-bearing women and children mixed with the men and boys in the long march from the Piazza del Popolo to the Piazza Venezia.

The moment of the celebration made it the more remarkably significant. The Austrians had just begun their fierce offensive in the Trentino. They had even been successful in their initial movements. Their great strength in cannon and in favoring topography of the battleground had been responsible.

Rome, like the rest of Italy, was full of wild and generally exaggerated rumors. The gossip, usually calculated to dishearten a people, was current. Stories of enemy advances and alleged captures or annihilation of important generals and regiments were on many tongues. Nothing, however, could dispirit the courageous people.

"Temporary reverses" only hardened their determination to win and whipped their pride to greater efforts. Therefore they celebrated the anniversary by flinging into the face of the enemy not a despairing, but an increasing enthusiasm for war.

Much credit is due the country's women of the people. They responded nobly to the general call for self-sacrifice. Girls replaced the male conductors on the street cars and the male sweepers of the streets.

In great measure the fields began to be tilled and the crops gathered by women. Other feminine substitutes, permitting able-bodied men to train for war, were employed.

Even society gave up its money and its pleasures. Red Cross hospitals and war relief stations were established and volunteer workers gathered by the thousands.

Princess Doria offered a large part of her palace for use as a laboratory. Princess Alya Borphese established an economical kitchen in her private property which has been serving as a model for the American ambassador to Italy co-operated in these war time works of mercy. Other residents of the American colony in the Italian kingdom lent willing hands.

Queen Helena has been the ruling spirit of all these activities. She generally inspires and directs everything. She has inspired and directed everything. She has inspired and directed everything. She has inspired and directed everything.

To the Voters of Oakland: Defeat the recall election by voting "No" on August 1 and keep Oakland where she belongs, in the class of a large commercial and enterprising city. Geo. W. Hiltz, 1217 Broadway.—Adv.

ADVERTISMENT. ADVERTISMENT.

How to mark the Recall Ballot

Shall Commissioner F. F. Jackson be recalled as Commissioner of the city of Oakland?	Yes	No	X
--	-----	----	---

WHY?

Henry Ford did not take all the nuts to Europe. We have in Oakland only a few mentally deficient, irresponsible agitators. Most of our people have sense, for which we are grateful.

Under the peculiar recall provisions of our city charter it is possible for a handful of political Zulus to plunge the whole city into a turmoil of useless political agitation, retard business development and cause the taxpayers a lot of useless expense. This is what is happening now.

Circulators of a petition to hang the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of California, at ten cents per name, would likely be successful in securing the number of signatures required by our charter to force a special recall election. Any group of agitators, if they have the cash to pay for the signatures, can force a special recall election on any public official. People will just as readily withdraw their signatures for solicitors who are paid. This is what some mistaken folks call being a good fellow. Hence some recalls.

This attempted recall of Jackson is the final kick of the rag-tag and bob-tail radical element that was behind John L. Davis at the last mayoralty election—the tailings of a badly mixed bunch. The sensible, decent element of his support have gone about their business, content with only a fairly good job. While not satisfied with the official performance of their pre-election hero, they are game to take the dose they fixed up for themselves, while no public interest can possibly be served by doing otherwise.

The initiative, referendum and recall are still in the experimental stage. If they are lost to democracy, it will be through abuse only. The recall particularly is a powerful weapon in the hands of the people, but, like every powerful agency, it must be used wisely—not recklessly, frivolously for grudge fight purposes as in this case.

Little care this wild-eyed, self-styled reform element that in this case the principle of the recall is being abused. As long as they can wreak their petty personal spite and bask for a brief moment in the white light of notoriety, they are satisfied.

However, sober citizens realize that it is just such performances as this that finally disgust thinking voters, who are fortunately in the majority, and may cause them to vote the recall out of the next city charter entirely, or restrict its use so that its practicability will be considerably lessened, thus working a confession that the people are not to be trusted with the recall. What a splendid finish for idealism and the democratic principle!

This fight against Jackson is a grudge fight. No public interest can possibly be served. It is our feeling that Jackson has done nothing to warrant his recall in the public interest. We are not defending Jackson particularly. Jackson is merely incidental. We are defending the recall principle in democratic government. Will you help us to do it? If you have convictions on this subject, express them at the polls. Let us find out just where we stand here in Oakland.

If you believe this city is entitled to a fighting chance to recover from business depression and to live and grow as a manufacturing city, go to the polls Tuesday and vote "NO" on the recall.

Why the square end?

Have you ever noticed how many expensive cigars from Cuba have the square-end shape? Of course you know there is a reason for that. The reason is this:

Of all cigar shapes, the square-end is the one most likely to give a free-drawing, even-burning smoke. You can see that this is so in the case of the OWL.

Notice that the blended leaves of the OWL filler run all the way down to the burning end. When you light the leaves evenly, you know they're going to burn evenly. No air-holes or torn ends of leaves to deflect the draught and make the OWL gutter. That square-end cures that.

Notice, too, that you get the full flavor of the OWL from the first puff. Not an over-balanced taste of wrapper, but the full balanced flavor of the cigar.

We selected the square-end shape of the OWL as we select the leaves and the Sumatra wrappers—to make the OWL a good cigar.

NAN HALPERIN GRIPS AUDIENCE

First and Last, Dainty Artist Proves to Orpheum Theater-Goers She Is Star.

At 11 o'clock last night, Nan Halperin stepped before the Orpheum footlights. At 11:24 Nan Halperin stepped out of the audience's view, and despite the lateness of the hour everyone wished that she might come back and "play" some more. It takes something more than mediocrity to grip an audience at 11 o'clock in the evening, when it is long past most bed-times.

In the first-and last, also, if you so wish it, place Miss Halperin down as an artist. Right to her finger tips! In the second place, her song material is excellent. She sings songs that are new, and she sings them in a way that is new. No usual raggedly-raggedly to them. They swing you right into the mood. In the third place, Miss Halperin is a real pure when it comes to pulchritude. Then, if anyone, desires he can have a fourth place. She is a pretty girl.

But the gist of it all is this: This little girl is a star! She sings five songs, representing in a broadest manner way the five stages of feminine life. And there's no snuff! Which is a timely comment these days.

CHILDREN ALSO ARTISTS.

Three children were on the program last night, and they also were artists! Master Cecil Parks is a violinist that is a violinist. He plays Old World selections with understanding and power enough for a grown man—a musically full-grown man. He is a rare study. With him comes William Conner, a talented pianist, who subordinated himself to the lead with the low. But his talent shows unmistakably.

Young Charles Barton as Barney Cook in the Orpheum players' rendition of the modern juvenile play, "The Dummy," also showed enough talent to deserve special mention. He played the lead, and played it mightily well. Little Eugenia Churchill, who played opposite Charles Barton, was cute, cunning and all the other things said about her by the audience last night. George R. Howard, Lucille Webster, Verna Felton and the rest added another success to the three which have gone before.

S. F. GIRL WINS RECOGNITION.

Violet Romer, a San Francisco girl, came back to us again as a recognized dancer. We recognized her from three years ago, but now that the East has given her the stamp of approval, it is no longer so. Miss Romer dances exquisitely, with a grace and a kind of stage setting. She takes William Shakespeare, and gives us her ideas of some of his quotations. Clive McCoy, who pronounced the lines before the curtain, fills his function acceptably. Miss Romer's "All in Vain" episode deserves special mention. The piece itself is colorful.

Solo Leipzig, the card trickster, shows us some new stunts with the cards which we didn't know existed. He is quicker than the eye, and his methods are amusing. If he didn't do such a good living in the actor business, he might become king of the pickpockets or gamblers overnight. Leipzig is also an artist!

Moon and Morris, two very clever dancers, suffered much by their position on the bill and the time of the hour. But few left the house while they were stepping around, however. They work together with vigor and perfect accord. Pictures opened and closed a record. Interesting bill. Whoever stays home from vaudeville this week is foolish—or just plain sick.

MACDONOUGH

The money-crazed adventures in Wall Street—ludicrous situations—continued this week in Dillon and King's new offering, "The Millionaire," at the Macdonough.

Mike and the are at their best in this laughable musical comedy, which is different from the usual offering. It is filled with novel situations and the plot places the two laugh-makers in predicaments from start to finish. They are playing to a desire to amuse by any means, as much money as possible and try a raid on Wall Street. They are helped by money sharks and a comedy proves as excellent as it is amusing.

The comedians are assisted in their efforts by Reeves, Gardner, who sings "Down Honolulu Way," Hattie, who sings "There's a Garden in Old Italy," Teddie, who sings "Sally, Sally," and Will Hayes, Teddie La Due, the Ginger Girls and the Hullo Quartet.

No honest man will run for office if he is constantly subject to recall for personal reasons. J. B. Ingulla, wholesale fish merchant, 4616 Park Boulevard—Advt.

Dorothy Gish, the central figure in "The Little Schoolmarm," is a little school teacher from Virginia, who boards out as school teachers generally do, and she is the idol of several young men and all the children.

An author, also from Virginia, comes to the village, meets the school teacher and a friendship results which seems improper to the village folk.

The two go riding and their horse runs away, when they stop for a drink at the stream. In trying to walk home they lose their way in the woods and are out all night. The village is scandalized and the teacher discredited.

The youthful member of the school board forces himself upon the teacher, who is rescued by the stranger in the school house.

The teacher then marries the author and refuses the offer of her old position by the school board.

Dorothy Gish gives a very appealing impersonation of the school teacher, and the story on the whole is very good, as it has a "truly rural" atmosphere, which is at all times. It takes you back to your childhood days.

Accompanying this picture are two comedies, one of them being "Rose Aronick in 'The Water Ball,'" one of the best comedies he has ever appeared in.

EDNA MAY RETURNS IN FITTING ROLE

MISS EDNA MAY, AS "SALVATION JOAN," AND HARRY MORAY, HER LEADING MAN.

"Salvation Nell" Offers Splendid Film Drama for Actress

It is some transformation from the dainty frills and fineries of the wardrobe of a millionaire's daughter, the simple costume of a humble worker in the ranks of the Salvation Army, yet the transformation does not in the least detract from the beauty of Edna May, the Virginian star, whose special performance of "Salvation Joan," which is now playing at the Broadway Theater, is the tale of the film world.

It is going beyond the ordinary to induce a woman of so many attainments of fame and fortune to come out of retirement to perform in a single photograph, but because she loves to help her less fortunate fellows in much the same way that the play describes and because the amount she received goes to the benefit of the Red Cross for the stricken soldiers of the allies and to provide an ambulance and corps for the boys of the Red Cross, Edna May returns to the limelight.

In London this radiant and beautiful charitable woman is an angel of mercy, whose trips to the underworld to help the struggling masses "on the other half of the earth" are, when she is in London, daily incidents of much admiration. And the grateful ones who feel from her beauty and are enraptured with the magnetism of her sweet personality have entitled her "the white orchid," because she represents to them both loveliness and beneficence and she brightens their dreary lives with kindness.

How like the life of the Salvation lass in this work of giving, how like Salvation Joan of the play, who goes into the mission of the Bowery to lead souls to the light of love and to build new lives upon the wreckage of the derelicts, who left alone to live over the memories of their past and to induce in the souls of their present, would surely drift out to the sea of oblivion on a tide of crime.

Edna May, who part fittingly become the former belle of New York, "Salvation Joan" will run at the Broadway today and tomorrow.

PANTAGES GIVES FAST VAUDEVILLE

Funny Man Vies With Grand Opera and Modern Dance.

What with an eccentric but funny man, a little opera and three tumbler of comic men, the Pantages bill this week more than holds up the standard set by modern vaudeville. Harry Green is the eccentric but funny man referred to, and with the aid of nothing but his face, voice and legs, he manages to extract a good lot of fun out of nothing in particular. He wins entirely on his method of attack. Instead of trying to be funny, he just acts natural, which brings him applause from balcony to box. Harry begins slow, and for a time the audience is sure he is a mistake. However, it isn't long before we know that he's the right man for the right place. But Harry can't sing—not that anyone cares.

Johnson, Howard and Lisette fill in the gaps between their bumpety-bumps with comedy which we have gotten used to expecting from our best tramp comedians. Their dancing resembles aboriginal antics and their attitudes are something like their dancing. The audience liked both, yesterday. Also, they try to schedule a variety of well-known musical instruments with ill success. If they had been successful, we wouldn't have liked them so well.

For the welcome back to Oakland again! The La Scala Sextette, well-dressed and very well-voiced, rendered the ever famous but never worn opera selections with excellent results. Indeed, it is difficult to win a whole lot of applause these days from vaudeville audiences. The Pantages bill, however, is a fact is yesterday's audience liked the grand opera, and it is quite likely that whoever will like it.

Charles A. Mason and company of farceurs take an old idea and weld it to suit 1916 conditions. There is a whole lot to the plot of "Who is Who?" and no one else could ever get into the troubles that assail the Tumblerick troupe. But this is make-believe and as such, turns the trick of farce. It provides laugh-making material, and laughs it does make.

The Venetian Four, who make music with a harp and three violins, gather round their share of palm-swinging. They play music and a few things more serious when the audience isn't looking. A very satisfactory musical act.

Buster and Bailey are better dancers than kings or jesters. But they are good dancers. Strange and unlooked-for comedy comes from their dancing. Pantages bill, but that is reason enough.

The Five Florinonds stand on ladders and, while there, do dexterous tricks. It's a hard enough to stand on a ladder, but it's harder still to do tricks on them. They have a good act. The bill opens and closes with the main attraction of the bill, "The Secret of the Submarine," continues on its violent way, and "The Iron Clad" still pursues her with the same old wit.

OAKLAND PHOTO

Like Lochinvar of old, Dustin Farnum, starring in "Davy Crockett," the Paramount feature picture playing today and tomorrow at T. & D.'s Oakland Photo Theater, steals his bride. When Crockett, so called, goes, was a poor uneducated frontiersman. Eleanor Vaughn reads to him this fascinating romantic poem and he never forgets. As she reads this tale of the brave knight's dashing exploits, the vision of the vast castle hall with its heavy beamed and lofty ceiling; its massive walls hung with battle flags and pieces of armor; the assembled guests with their elaborate and costly silk and satin clothes, all in readiness for the wedding ceremony—all this appears as a vision visible before Davy's eyes.

As heathens to vast estates, there comes a day when Eleanor is to be influenced into marrying a man who does not really love. As the wedding day approaches, her heart turns to Davy. She asks Davy if he remembers the story of Lochinvar, and although he answers "Yes," he does not understand. But when Eleanor learned towards him and said tenderly, "What would Ellen have said to Lochinvar had he fallen here?" understanding came to "Davy Crockett." Crockett's role of another Lochinvar gives a very unique climax to this dramatic and stirring story of frontier days.

FAMOUS CONVICT ESCAPES AGAIN

CHICAGO, July 31.—Charles Stratton, noted convict, and two other prisoners, escaped from the Illinois penitentiary at Joliet yesterday according to a telegram received by the Chicago detective bureau last night. It was the sixth time Stratton had broken out of some prison in a comparatively short criminal career. William A. Hart and William McGlade, the other two to escape, were serving life sentences for murder.

DEATH AT WHEEL OF STOLEN AUTO

SPOKANE, Wn., July 31.—Because Frank Beck, aged 18, stole away with his father's racing automobile this afternoon and tried to race past a large crowd at the Mission playgrounds and State swimming pool, he is now in the city jail here mourning his fate, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lonsden are mourning the death of their 15-year-old son, Orrin.

The boy was picked up from the path of the motor and died in the city emergency hospital a few minutes later without regaining consciousness. The body was not identified for three hours after the accident.

Aeroplane Drives Zeppelin Home

LONDON, July 31.—Combat between a British aeroplane and a Zeppelin thirty miles off the east coast of Great Britain was reported in an admiralty dispatch.

The aeroplane pilot, it was related, fired more than two tons of ammunition at the German dirigible before he was temporarily incapacitated by a portion of his gun flying off and stunning him.

RICHMOND TO VOTE FOR FREEHOLDERS

RICHMOND, July 31.—With the charter referendum set for tomorrow, there is practically no interest in the election to name men to draft a new charter for the city. There has been no campaign made by any of the candidates nor has there been any campaign literature spread about or any controversy carried on through the newspapers.

I am against the recall. Vote "No" August 1. E. L. Lewis, jeweler 922 Washington—Advt.

Uncle Wiggly Kicks in Cuts up for

MRS. JAMES A. GIBB (MILLIE SINCLAIR), A RECENT BRIDE, MR. AND MRS. GIBB WILL CUT SHORT A HONEYMOON AT DEL MONTE IN ORDER TO SAIL ON THE MANOA WEDNESDAY FOR THEIR FUTURE HOME IN HONOLULU.

After the fantastic strangeness of their dancing last Saturday evening in the vast hollow of the Greek theater, Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn ventured from the antique world of rhythm and color they have created to become guests of honor at a luncheon party today.

This affair for the Shavens was given in the informal setting of the Faculty club in the university under the direction of William Laidlaw Ames, who is a close friend of the couple and who has been the host of the Shavens for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Havens, whose unique place in the world of the dance is well known, were among the guests who came to greet the Shavens at the luncheon yesterday. In addition, Mrs. Charles Edward Novell and several of the distinguished personalities of the summer season.

In connection with any re-appearance of Ruth St. Denis here it is always remembered that she lifted the veil of the mystery of the dance, revealing to the world the true significance of the dance as a form of expression.

Mrs. Havens has always maintained a high standard of her house, entertaining the colorful or distinguished personalities coming out here from far corners of the earth.

Next Sunday she will give a most informal tea for Miss Marjorie Aldrich, the noted opera singer, who will be in town with the People's Philharmonic Orchestra that day.

Her other guests will be a few friends of the Shavens who always greet her warmly when she visits her in the city. The tea will follow the concert.

Havens has just returned from San Francisco, where he spent three weeks in a casual fashion. Both he and Mrs. Havens will remain in town through August, going away if they leave at all in the late fall.

The death last week of Mrs. Emma Shafter Howard has stirred vivid recollections of the original entertaining she did for visiting celebrities when she reigned over the big old mansion in Alice street.

At that time—dating back more than ten years ago—she was one of the most popular and successful of the city's social hostesses.

No one since, in fact, has shown more imagination here, in entertaining, and though it is ten years since she crossed the bay to make her home, and though many of her friends had seen nothing of her for a long while, the memory of her as a hostess has not been obliterated. It is part of the social history of Oakland.

One of the affairs given by Mrs. Howard—one typical of her gifts—was a midnight tea for Madame Modjeska when she was playing at the theater here. The great actress and several of the leading persons in her company were driven after the performance to her home, where they were entertained in the splendid Howard garden, where fourteenth streets now is cut through.

Another large party was given in the house—owned by the late George L. Lusk—where the Howard family lived. The party was given in the house—owned by the late George L. Lusk—where the Howard family lived.

In recalling the many colorful persons to whom she extended her hospitality, the name of Jane Adams comes up. Miss Adams was the object of social attention from Mrs. Howard at a day when she had not been recognized as a figure of such importance as she has become today.

The late Mrs. Howard not only showed the intuition and interest in people, but in movements and things. She was fond of collecting odd furniture, she was a member of a famous English boating society and also of the Council of Women.

Miss E. F. Fushman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fushman, became the bride of Maurice Agard yesterday at high noon at the home of her sister, Mrs. John C. Fushman.

The ceremony was a very simple one, with no attendants. The bride is a very gifted person, musically and has given concerts in various cities since her return from abroad.

CONFESSIONS OF ROXANE

By FRANCIS WALTER.

Mr. Gordon was as good as his word. He came back several hours later and asked me to dictate any telegrams I might wish to send. My first one was to Arthur. I told him briefly that I was in the wreck, but was only slightly hurt. I used him not to worry. I was being well cared for, I told him, and expected to be on my way to New Orleans the next morning, as another train would be ready to go South from the scene of the accident. I also telegraphed my mother, but I was afraid to tell her that I was hurt. I knew she would never rest until she reached my side.

Until Mr. Gordon wrote my telegram to Arthur, I think he did not know that I was married. It might have been my imagination, but it seemed to me that he had a strange attitude toward me.

During the short time I had known him we had seemed to understand each other unusually well, and when he did not come to my room after I was hurt I thought that the tenderness he showed was hardly justified by our brief acquaintance. But there was nothing in his conduct toward me which was displeasing. On the contrary, I was probably drawn more closely to him than he was to me, particularly after I was hurt.

When I first talked with him I was attracted by his wonderfully magnetic personality, and as the greatness of his character was revealed to me, I found my admiration for him increased.

As I lay helpless on my bed, with the farmer's wife attending me, he was like a being from another world when he came in on errands of sympathy and assistance. My original estimate of him was strengthened by his later observations. He went about the task of caring for the injured in a way which showed that his mind was a commanding one. He would have been a leader of men anywhere and under almost any circumstances.

After he had taken my messages to the telegraph station, the farmer's wife bustled in again. This time she could talk of nothing but Mr. Gordon, who had paid her the $200 for caring for Marjorie and me. With her volubility increased by reason of the payment, the good woman emitted an endless stream of words. She declared that Mr. Gordon had spent the entire night contributing to the relief of the victims of the wreck and had refused to leave until she had had her coffee.

So enthusiastic was she in her praise that one might have thought that the purpose of Providence in permitting the accident was to show what an indomitable spirit Mr. Gordon possessed.

"But he didn't seem to care nearly as much about any of the hurt people as he did about you and the other young lady," the woman told me. "I suppose you are both kin to him. He kept asking you all the time, and at first, when I told him you hadn't come to, he just gazed at his feet and went about his work like he would much rather have been somewhere than these others he was looking for. He certainly must think a lot of you."

THE BLUEBIRD BUREAU

Department of Good Fellows

So far we have no news for Merle T. when that young fellow shows up at the bureau tomorrow. Perhaps the afternoon mail may bring us the letter which we are looking for.

Surely in this vast Northern California, with all its wealth of farm land, there should be an opportunity for this young man to receive his room and board and the pitance necessary for him to accomplish his purpose. Nature's hand slipped when she made this man, for he has not the power of speech nor hearing, though he is not the handicapped some people might imagine.

Merle is 22, intelligent, able-bodied and ambitious. He is American born. Farm work is not new to him. He is well able to perform the work of an ordinary farm hand. His great ambition is to pursue the study of agriculture at the Davis State farm. To obtain admission he needs a bit more experience and a small fund for his maintenance.

The Blue Bird Bureau would like to secure him steady employment on a farm anywhere in Northern California, preferably in the Sacramento valley, and will be grateful to any one who can put us in touch with the proper parties.

You remember we told you a day or so ago that we were sending a young hero to a physician friend of ours to see what could be done for him. This boy was terribly burned in trying to rescue his aged grandmother from her burning home. He dropped her from the house, but she succumbed to her injuries, and he himself almost lost his life. The tendons in his burned hands have recently tightened in such a way as to make it almost impossible for him to earn a livelihood.

Here is what our friend, the doctor, writes: Blue Bird Bureau, OAKLAND TRIBUNE: Herewith I hand you a report of the examination of Victor, the boy sent to me by you who had his hands severely burned some time ago. I advise an operation upon the right hand at this time. The cost to be as follows: Hospital service and anesthesia, $5.00; Dressing materials following operation, $1.00; My services, no charge.

Total expense, $6.00. Yours very truly, The physician who wrote this letter, M.D., is one of the city's best hospitals and is a surgeon of wide reputation. He is one of several who enlisted in the work of the Blue Bird Bureau soon after its inception.

CAMP DAYS ARE ENDING FOR ROOKIES

Last Week of Training at Monterey to Be Busy With Final Drills as U. S. Officers Approve Showing of Volunteers.

U. S. MILITARY TRAINING CAMP, Monterey, July 31.—This is the beginning of the last week of the training camp, and the men went to their work this morning with all the pep of soldiers who have had a day's rest and who want to get just as much instruction as they can crowd into five days.

Battle tactics will consume nearly all this week. This morning the rookies attacked by platoons and companies, and the camp was enshrouded with dust kicked up by charging feet in heavy armor.

WEEK'S PROGRAM.

The general instruction work for the week is as follows: Tuesday there will be an attack by battalion in the morning and in the afternoon battalion marches with advance and rear guards will be held in the morning, and in the afternoon the regiment will hold a practice march with advance and rear guards thrown out.

Thursday begins the big final of the camp, a practice march in the morning, and in the afternoon the men doing their own individual cooking, and practical demonstration of camp sanitation. On Friday there will be a battle in the hills above Carmel, in which the regulars will assume a defensive position and the rookies will attempt to dislodge them.

There are but four companies of regulars as against twelve of the rookies, but to show how modest and, at the same time, broad-minded these rookies are, it might be pointed out that they are laying bets that they can't lick the regulars. The longer the civilians stay here the greater their respect for the capabilities of the regular soldier becomes.

REVIEW BY BELL.

When the regiment marches back from Carmel it will be reviewed by Major-General J. Franklin Bell, Western department commander, and on the following day then men will turn in their property, make their final accounting and leave for their homes.

The table manners of the rookies are nothing almost everybody, including the rookies themselves. The longer they stay in camp apparently the hungrier they become, and yesterday, when Brigadier-General William L. Sibert, camp commander, watched the men at mess, he shook his head sadly and remarked that it seemed to him that the rookies were rapidly getting back to the primitive.

TO AWARD.

Yesterday was a busy one around camp in spite of the fact that no work was obligatory upon the men. The big shooting competition was on at the Presidio of Monterey, ten men from each company participating, and there was polo, baseball and tennis. The cups to be given for the various athletic and marksmanship events will be awarded in a few days. A large number of visitors came down to camp from the big cities, and the camp was bright with the costumes of the visitors.

The men already are expressing their sorrow over the early breaking up of camp. They have had a mighty enjoyable time as well as learning much valuable military training, and there is also great respect over the temporary severance of warm friendships made here.

POLITICAL NEWS

HUGHES TO KNOW OF NOMINATION

Official Notification Ceremony Transformed Into "Love" Feast Tonight.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Former Justice Charles Evans Hughes has been working for six weeks as Republican nominee, but tonight he will go through the function of being formally told that the representatives of the R. N. P. in convention assembled at Chicago last June, voted him their standard bearer.

A survival of the days when there were no telegraphs and news moved slowly by courier and coach, the "notification ceremony" tonight was to be transformed into a "love feast" by the Republicans.

Carnegie Hall, seating nearly 4,000 people, will be packed with old-line Republicans, new-line Republicans, former Democrats, Progressives and just plain people. Before this audience and through the press associations and newspapers—Governor Hughes will make his preliminary appeal for Republican votes.

As arranged for tonight, there were to be just two speeches—a very brief one from Senator Warren G. Harding, who was chairman of the Chicago convention, and who was appointed chairman of the notification committee. Harding will gently break the news to Hughes that he was nominated as Republican presidential nominee.

Hughes will respond in a speech of probably five or ten thousand words—his "keynote" for the campaign.

The former governor has been working on this speech ever since he got the unofficial word from Chicago that he was nominated. In it he will give his views on practically every policy of interest to the public. He will make a powerful appeal for unity of effort, announce a welcome to Progressives of all types, and probably indicate what issue he considers of paramount importance in the coming campaign.

Colonel Exonerated From Raid Blame

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Colonel Herbert J. Slocum, Thirteenth cavalry, commanding at Columbus at the time of the Villa raid, was exonerated from all blame in a report given out by the war department today.

Secretary of War Baker approved Scott's report, which is final. It follows months of investigation by high level officers appointed to probe the attack. Slocum was in command at the Columbus post.

Unreliable information as to Villa's whereabouts "unfortunately credited" was responsible for the success of the surprise attack, the report said.

Slocum, according to the report, made every effort to find where Villa was and what his intentions were.

Slocum and his men were commended for their defense of Columbus and their repulse of the bandits in Pershing's section of the report.

TO BAR 3923 VOTERS.

STOCKTON, July 31.—San Joaquin county voters to the number of 3923 will be prevented from participating in the party primaries of August because they failed to change their registrations. At the May primary, 3,005 voters had registered in this county declining to state their party affiliation. When the county clerk's office closed yesterday at 5 o'clock, it was found that 1,052 of these had changed their registration. Registration figures to date total 24,653 for the entire county.

SENATORS APPLAUD RECORD OF HUGHES

Solons Discuss Plan to Make Justices Ineligible to Candidacy.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Discussion on the proposed amendment to make a member of the United States Supreme Court ineligible to become a candidate for political office was had in the Senate today. Senator Walsh of Montana referred to Justice Hughes' declaration to be a candidate for President in 1912, and his interview at the time on the subject made public by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise.

"A departure from the salutary rule in question which no Justice of the Supreme Court has ever until now become a candidate for any party for the office of President can be justified only in some crisis involving the national life," he said.

"What candidate calls for a disregard of the country or its institutions for preserving the country or its institutions from impending collapse or ruthless destruction—from what quarter is our independence threatened?"

Senator Walsh said that it was only just to assume that Justice Hughes' nomination came to him unsolicited and that he had no hand in the well-ordered pre-convention campaign that was conducted in his behalf.

Senator Townsend of Michigan spoke in reply.

"It is a compliment to Mr. Hughes that no one has raised any other issue against him," he said. "He has never pondered to classes or to public sentiment, but has adhered to his duty as he saw it. The public career of Mr. Hughes stands alone in American history."

Negro Is Held for Stabbing Affray

Temple West, colored, is in the city prison today, where he is held pending an investigation into the circumstances of an attempted stabbing affray. Edward Silva, 1681 Eighth street, informed Officer Garcia that the man had tried to stab him while they were at the baseball game. Words preceded the knife drawing.

Garcia, on the description furnished by Silva, searched for the man, and found him near the ball park with a suitcase in hand, evidently preparing to board the next train for San Francisco.

Silva told West as the man who had attacked him.

SWIFT'S PENSION PLAN ANNOUNCED

Employees of Packing Firm to Be Retired on Annuities Under Schedule.

Eighteen Oakland employees of Swift and Company were notified today through O. J. Kennedy of a $2,000,000 pension plan provided by the great packing corporation for the protection of the superannuated and disabled workers who have been in the service of the company for a stipulated number of years. The striking feature of the plan, which ranks it as a semi-philanthropic, is that the employees do not contribute to the fund. It is anticipated that the company will be called upon to pay $400,000 a year in addition to the income from the fund to meet the demands.

The plan, which becomes operative on August 1, will bring in time 25,000 employees under its provisions. A number who are already eligible will be pensioned as soon as the board of trustees can pass upon their qualifications. This board will consist of five members who are officers or employees appointed annually by the board of directors to serve one year.

Men who have been in the employ of the company for 25 years and have reached the age of 65 must retire on pension under the operation of the plan. Those who have reached the age of 60 after the same period of service may retire if they so desire. The age of compulsory and voluntary retirement for women is placed at ten years less than for men. No pension shall be less than $240 a year and none shall exceed $5000 per annum.

The widow and children of an eligible employee shall receive one-half of the pension to which he is entitled at the time of his death. Employees who have been in service fifteen years and up to twenty-five years may be pensioned at any time when they are permanently incapacitated for work.

The pension of those retired on account of age and length of service, or if incapacitated after a service of 25 years but prior to the age of retirement, shall be one-half of the average salary for the five years preceding retirement, shall be one-half of the average salary for the five years preceding retirement. The pension of those retiring on account of incapacity after from 15 to 25 years of service shall be computed on the basis of one and one-half of the average salary for the five years preceding retirement, for each year of continuous service.

The pension plan has been under consideration for more than six years and during that time a fund of $2,000,000 has been accumulated for this purpose. Dozens of pension schemes, contributory and non-contributory, were studied and the best features selected. The income from the foundation fund is to be supplemented annually by the company until the fund is large enough to meet the annual demands for it.

Employees who were working for other concerns which have been absorbed by Swift and Company in the past are to be allowed full credit for the length of their services with those concerns before their amalgamation.

Old Feud Brings Threat to Shoot

Alphonse De Carlo, a second-hand dealer of Twenty-third street and San Pablo avenue, is in the city prison today charged with having threatened the life of Salvatore Saragusa, a barber of 215 Grove street, and Mary Guisto, 222 Grove street. De Carlo was arrested late last night after Mrs. Guisto had notified the police that he had threatened to shoot her, flourishing a revolver in her face. The weapon was found in his possession by the police.

De Carlo's arrest is the culmination of a feud of long-standing between himself and Saragusa, who says that the trouble started several years ago when he accused De Carlo of attempting to break up his home. Recently, Saragusa alleged, De Carlo has had hand bills printed bearing the picture of Saragusa and Mrs. Guisto, and alleging that the two were intimate. These handbills, the barber charges, were distributed broadcast about the neighborhood in which he lives.

De Carlo was arraigned before Police Judge Aaron Turner, sitting, for Judge George Samuels, this morning, and his case set for hearing next Monday.

Patrolman May Get Ride in "Jug Wagon"

Patrolman Manning will have a chance to ride in the police patrol in which he has escorted so many victims to the city prison if he does not obey the mandate of Police Judge Mortimer Smith issued this morning in the case of John Jewett, charged with a misdemeanor offense. Manning was to have been a witness against Jewett, but failed to appear in court, although he had been subpoenaed to do so.

"I'll continue this case to Wednesday morning," Judge Smith announced. "If Manning is not in court at that time we will send the police patrol after him, and he will learn that the orders of this court cannot be ignored, even by a police officer."

Hammersmith Is Accused of Arson

Philip Hammersmith is in the city prison today on suspicion of having started a fire in the basement of some flats at 192 Telegraph avenue during the night. Smith was seen coming out of the basement of the place just before the fire engines arrived. He was under the influence of liquor.

Slight damage was reported by J. P. Port, owner of the place, but it is thought that the blaze might have been a dangerous one had not an alarm been sent in at once. Mrs. M. Bonell occupies the lower flat, while Dr. Austin Fritz lives in the upper apartments.

Young Groom Goes Back to Face Trial

George McCrea, an Oakland youth who passed a fictitious check for $20 while on his honeymoon in Salt Lake City two weeks ago, and then returned to Oakland with his bride, was taken back to stand trial today by an officer who came for him.

Mrs. Sarah McCrea, the young bride, did her best to help her husband out of the county jail nor at the Western Pacific station this morning.

McCrea expressed hopes that he will be able to obtain probation and make good the amount of the check so that he can come back to Oakland and his bride.

SAVES WOULD-BE SUICIDE.

SAN JOSE, July 31.—J. S. Meade, 28, residing at 240 East San Fernando street, attempted to commit suicide by inhaling gas. He was rescued by his 17-year-old son, who pulled the tube from his father's mouth.

PAIR INTERRUPT SUITCASE THIEF

Burglar Abandons Loot When Questioned as He Is Leaving House.

A bold daylight burglary was frustrated, according to the police reports today, when Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Smith of 671 Vernon street, accosted a young man emerging from the home of some time Sunday and a large amount of jewelry taken by burglars.

The man said that he was Mrs. Morrison's nephew, but on further questioning started away from the place. When Mrs. Smith demanded to see the contents of the cases the man refused. At this time Smith approached. The burglar dropped the grip and fled, and Smith started in pursuit. The burglar, running down the street, threatened his pursuer with a revolver and effected his escape by leaping a fence. The occupants of the Morrison home were not at home when the attempted robbery took place.

Numerous burglaries in residence districts were reported to the police this morning, and detectives are working to recover loot and apprehend the men responsible for the crimes. O. R. Tyson, 4291 Gilbert street, reported to the authorities that his home was entered from some time Sunday and a large amount of jewelry taken by burglars.

FIREBUG SOUGHT IN NEVADA CITY

NEVADA CITY, July 31.—It is the firm belief of people living in Willow valley and along the Washington Ridge that a firebug is operating in that vicinity.

Four forest fires have been started in different parts of the district in the last two days, but fortunately all were under control before any damage could be done.

"I don't want any reward. I intend to vote 'No,'" T. W. Bernstein, clothing dealer, said.

"Call Miss"

The head of the firm calls for the Heald graduate for particular dictation, important letters, and work requiring business knowledge and accuracy.

Can You Answer Such a Call?

The real business test for stenography is not the number of words a minute; but how accurately the dictation can be taken and transcribed, and how thoroughly the applicant for a position understands business methods.

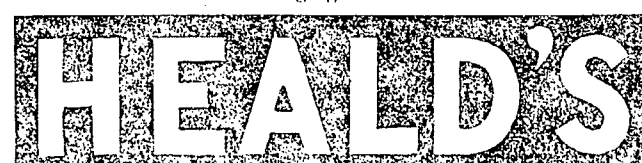

The average business man dictates ninety words a minute. The time spent in acquiring a speed of over 150 words a minute could be better spent in learning how modern business is conducted. The automobile built to carry weight is of more commercial value than the car having several speed records to its credit.

HEALD'S does not train its students to smash records. It is a business college designed to meet the requirements of business men. It is in constant touch with exactly what is needed for a young man or young woman to achieve success. Its students receive the benefit of this service.

During the past year the demand for HEALD graduates has broken all records; the demand has been far greater than the supply.

Blumenthal has been associated with the A. J. Rich Company for several years. He has been living at the Fairmont hotel. The marriage, while unexpected, was not a surprise, as the engagement had lasted several seasons. The wedding ceremony was characterized as "modern," without announcement and the attendant festivities. A few immediate relatives were present.

THE REPUBLICAN CONFERENCE.

The State-wide conference of the legal representatives of the Republican party in California, held in San Francisco Saturday afternoon, was thoroughly representative; over four hundred members of the State Central Committee and of the various Republican county committees responded personally to the invitation to the conference, although the call had been issued less than a week prior to the date of assembling. These conferees brought with them as many more proxies of committeemen who could not be present.

The resolution endorsing the candidacy of Mr. Booth is merely advisory. The committeemen did not meet in their official capacity as such. But, having been called together to discuss an extraordinary and critical situation related to the interests of the Republican voters of California, they addressed themselves to the subject with such seriousness and unanimity of purpose that their advice will have great weight with every man and woman honestly registered as a Republican.

The situation before Republicans briefly is this: Governor Hiram W. Johnson has had his name placed on the Republican primary ballot as a candidate for United States Senator. He is registered in another party—the Progressive—and has publicly declared that he stands today just where he stood four years ago and two years ago.

There are two other candidates for the Republican senatorial nomination, Mr. Willis H. Booth and Mr. Walter Bordwell. Both these gentlemen are from Los Angeles, and it is conceded that the south is entitled to elect the next United States Senator. Both Mr. Booth and Mr. Bordwell are highly esteemed in this State for their ability and patriotic citizenship; they have been lifelong friends. The interests of the party in this year of national crises are vastly more important than any individual. It would have been perhaps the better course if one of the Los Angeles candidates had withdrawn from the race, but neither has done so. Mr. Booth has been openly a candidate for several months. Mr. Bordwell entered at the last minute. Mr. Booth asked for a State conference of representative Republicans to decide what should be done in the best interest of the party. Mr. Bordwell declined to attend such a conference or to abide by its judgment.

BY OUR CONSENT AND AID.

Here is a most humiliating situation. In carrying out the provisions of the British trading-with-the-enemy act and in seeing that the "black-list" of American trading concerns is not broken in any way, shipping companies of British registry and all vessels registered under the flag of England's allies require, before accepting cargo for transport, a certificate that none of it originated in an enemy country or from a "black-listed" American concern.

This means that all goods shipped from American factories, from the California port of San Francisco, and other ports on the Pacific Coast as well, to the American possessions of the Philippines, must in effect be accompanied by a permit from England and her allies before they can start on their journey.

Conspirators in bringing about this distressing situation are Senator La Follette of Wisconsin and President Wilson. The seamen's bill, introduced and championed by La Follette and signed by Mr. Wilson, drove all deep-sea American shipping out of the Pacific. Goods, mail and passengers between the United States and her Far Eastern possessions must be carried in foreign bottoms—Japanese and English. Hence American individuals and merchandise cannot travel between San Francisco and Manila unless they can furnish certified evidence that they are pro-Ally.

American interests have been in as great jeopardy before, but never with the consent and the collaboration of the national government.

WHEN PEACE WAS RESTORED.

In view of all that has recently happened and is now happening on the Mexican border one of Secretary McAdoo's treasury decisions is peculiarily interesting. It is numbered 34,758 and dated September 9, 1914, and reads:

"In view of the restoration of peace in Mexico, collectors and other officers of customs may in future treat arms and ammunition as ordinary commercial shipments and permit them to go forward accordingly."

THE THREATENED RAILROAD STRIKE.

Business men throughout the country—beside the railway operators, and Congress have taken note of the seriousness of the railway situation and all are working for a solution that will avoid a nation-wide strike of the 312,000 locomotive engineers, firemen, engine men and conductors. While the situation is not absolutely hopeless, it is approaching a crucial stage.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has held a referendum on the proposition that "Congress should be asked to direct the Interstate Commerce Commission to make an immediate investigation and to present a report as soon as possible." Out of a possible 1488 votes, 1017 were recorded; 988 in favor of the investigation and 29 opposed. This was even a bigger vote than recorded on the national defense question.

Senator Newlands of Nevada introduced in the Senate a few days ago a resolution in substance the same as recommended by the National Chamber of Commerce. It directs the Interstate Commerce Commission to ascertain and report immediately the minimum, maximum and average wage, with hours of service, paid to each class of railroad employees, and so far as they are comparable, the minimum, maximum and average wage, with hours of service, paid in other industries, where similar skill and risk are involved; the relation of wages to railroad revenues, and the question of whether railroad revenues based on existing rates for transportation will admit of equally favorable terms to all classes of railroad employees.

The effect of the chamber's recommendation and of the Senate resolution will be to put upon the Interstate Commerce Commission the burden of saying what is a just settlement of the controversy between the railroad operators and the employees. The railroads are also urging that this be done, having published advertisements in some 17,000 newspapers of the country to create public sentiment favorable to this course. This must be said of the action of the National Chamber of Commerce: It went no further than to recommend that all possible and available data to indicate a just settlement of the issues be obtained and studied and that in the meantime both the railroads and their employees exercise moderation and patience. Nothing material can be lost by either side in following this advice.

The first meeting between representatives of the four brotherhoods and the committee of employers was held in New York in June and resulted in a disagreement. The employees withdrew from the conference and asked the membership of the brotherhoods to give them power to submit a country-wide strike as their ultimatum. The result of the vote on the giving of this authority should be known within the next few days. Unofficial reports are to the effect that the power has been voted.

This will not necessarily mean that a strike will be ordered, but the officials of the brotherhoods armed with authority to make a strike ultimatum are not likely to be more compromising than they were at the first conference. The railway operators say they will not make any of the concessions demanded. A strike would greatly interfere with, if not completely paralyze freight traffic throughout the country. And this would result in incalculable losses in hundreds of lines of business and industry.

It is to be hoped that if the employees and operators are unable to meet an agreement in their coming conferences, that they will await the investigation of the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is extremely doubtful, however, whether this latter body can make much progress toward peace. The employees declined to enter into a discussion with the operators of matters of revenues, cost of operation, etc., insisting that their demand for shorter hours was the only question open for discussion. If this stand is persisted in it is difficult to see how they can be expected to discuss the same data the railroads would have submitted merely because it is produced by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

WILSON VS. WILSON.

(From the New York Herald)

Mr. Borah of Idaho contributed an interesting chapter to the current discussion when he drew the Senate's attention to the following comment upon the commerce clause of "Constitutional Government of the United States," by the well-known writer, Woodrow Wilson:

"His power is to regulate commerce between the States," and the attempts now made during every session of Congress to carry the implication of that power beyond the utmost boundaries of reasonable and honest inference show that the only limits likely to be observed by politicians are those set by the good sense and conservative temper of the country.

"The proposed federal legislation with regard to the regulation of child labor affords a striking example. If the power to regulate commerce between the States can be stretched to include the regulation of labor in the mills and factories, it can be made to embrace every particular of industrial organization and action of the country. The only limitations Congress would observe should the Supreme Court assent to such obviously absurd extravagances of interpretation would be the limitations of opinion and of circumstances."

So pretty soon Southern Democrats will be found quoting Woodrow Wilson historian against Woodrow Wilson.

NOTES and COMMENT

The announcement that Hughes has finished his acceptance speech is a plain indication that his nomination has been tipped off to him.

T. R. It is announced, will speak when the committee breaks it to Hughes that he has been nominated. We thought the prior statement that he wouldn't be there was daring.

The state has realized $6456 from 532 nominating petitions which were filed. Which brings us up to the fact that men can't aspire to office on jawbone nowadays.

Governor Johnson, Friday night, repeated that one about being up against a "loaded primary." Such charge as the primary is loaded with was put in and rammed down by the governor himself.

If men who escape from the chain gang are not caught they are likely to give the city a wide berth hereafter. Maybe it would be the part of wisdom not to chase them too hard.

The baseball writer who headed it up, "Ban Johnson Bans Bards," scored a hit otherwise than in alliteration. About the most gratuitous, superfluous and supererogative thing possible is a band at a ball game.

This country and this state is to have the only public park with a natural volcano in it on the American continent. The Lassen Volcanic National Park bill is up to the President. It is to be some park in extent—30,000 acres.

The Cloverdale Reville says: "This country is so busy preparing to swat Carranza that the fly is enjoying comparative immunity." There is some warrant for the conclusion that this country is stalling, rather than preparing.

The Pasadena Star-News says: "It is not quite clear what the differences between the United States and Mexico are, but efforts to adjust them are proceeding with glacial speed." The "differences" are quite clear up this way, however much they may be in eclipse at Pasadena.

The heat wave in the East is severer than was ever known. The fact that its fatalities extend to comparatively small places shows that it is altogether the weather, and in no measure due to modern city construction, which has been held to render the large city deadly when the weather becomes torrid.

Nautical description of a lubber mishap from the Huntington Park Critic: "G. B. Lillie and the Bond family 'did a courting go' to Los Angeles Monday and Tuesday, being the sequel to a little flirtation between the Bond car and the Lillie Maxwell early last winter. Mr. Bond woke up in the receiving hospital with a broken shoulder and lacerations about the head, and Lillie's Maxwell was 'biffed aback the binnacle' and was towed to an auto shipyard for repairs."

AS DELETED.

President Wilson's letter to Congressman Kent would have been improved by omission of the words enclosed in parentheses in the subjoined reprint:

(My Dear Mr. Kent: It gratifies me (very much) that you (should) have been selected as the chairman of the Woodrow Wilson Independent League and (that) you should be willing to serve (in that capacity). (The support of independent men whose convictions I share and whose purposes are my purposes also gives me the greatest encouragement not only, but makes me feel that the political processes of the country are clearing for a new and more effective combination in the work of advancing all reasonable reform to early consummation. Cordially and sincerely yours.) Woodrow Wilson.

With half a dozen strokes of a pen an ordinary bright office boy could have edited out of the President's letter the flimsy sentiment and excess baggage of verbiage, the bad "taste" and bad grammar.—New York Sun.

PEACE, WAR AND NATIONAL HONOR

Citation of Precedents in Reply to the Speech of Governor Martin H. Glynn of New York, Delivered Before the Democratic National Convention in St. Louis

By GROVE L. JOHNSON.

Governor Glynn of New York in his speech in favor of peace and Wilson at the Democratic National Convention cited what he called a number of precedents showing that the American Government in the past had not gone to war even when insulted, and claimed they justified the action of President Wilson in his refusal to protect the honor of our country. Every lawyer knows that precedents, to be of any value, must apply directly to the case in which they are cited. I have not the time now, but at some future date will take pleasure in showing that not one of Governor Glynn's precedents should be considered in this matter. For the present I shall content myself with citing some precedents of a different character showing that the United States has ever been ready to fight for its principles.

In 1796 Charles Cotesworth Pinckney of South Carolina represented the United States in Paris. He was empowered to settle the differences between France and the United States growing out of the French cruises, and to obtain abstention from future practices of that kind. It was very directly intimated to him that upon payment of some large sum the matter could be quickly arranged. To this he replied in the sentence which has been the maxim of our people ever since: "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute." The French government found America ready to fight for its rights and the difficulty was promptly arranged. Pinckney was sustained by President George Washington and the Congress of the United States and his concise statement became a living truth for America.

In 1804 and '05 the Barbary States of the Mediterranean, particularly Tripoli and Tunis, claimed the right by force of arms to exact blackmail from every ship sailing the Mediterranean Sea, to confiscate the cargo of the ship, enslave the crew and passengers and extort large ransoms for their release. All the nations of the earth—Spain, Holland, France and Great Britain—acquiesced to the demands of these free-booters and paid annually large sums as tribute and other large sums of money for the release of their citizens taken prisoners. President Jefferson, taking for his motto the language of Mr. Pinckney, "Millions for defense, not a cent for tribute," declared that the United States would not tolerate such a course and refused to pay the money demanded either for tribute or ransom, declared war upon these pirates and sent Preble, Decatur and McDonough, all afterwards famous as Admirals of our Navy, in command of ships, battered down the walls of the forts, burned the Tripolitan ships, killed and captured their soldiers and sailors and compelled these pirate nations to agree that no American ship or American passenger or sailor should thereafter be captured or held to ransom by them and that no tribute money would be asked of us. Our nation was weak, our navy feeble at that time, but the doctrine that America should be as free on the ocean as on land was promulgated, enforced and made the rule of law by the valor of American sailors and the firmness of President Jefferson.

In 1848 the Hungarian refugee, Martin Schlk, an American citizen, was taken prisoner by the Austrians in Smyrna as being amenable to their army law. Captain Ingraham in command of an American ship of war, then anchored in that port, cleared his decks for action, beat to quarters, demanded the immediate release of Martin Schlk or in default of which stated he would attack the Austrian ship and take Kozsta by force. He claimed that an American citizen was entitled to protection by an American man-of-war wherever he might be. The Austrians yielded; Kozsta was delivered to Ingraham. Congress endorsed Captain Ingraham's conduct, giving him a medal and vote of thanks. William L. Marcy, then Secretary of State, one of the great men and lawyers of our nation, fully endorsed the action of Captain Ingraham; Austria was notified that we stood ready to defend that action by force of arms. Thus again was the American Doctrine that an American is as free on the ocean as on land maintained by the American Government at the risk of war.

In 1895 occurred another incident in which fortunately I was able to participate. President Cleveland sent a message to the House of Representatives stating that Great Britain was infringing upon the rights of Venezuela and threatened to take its territory without due process of law. He desired to defend the Monroe Doctrine and had notified Great Britain that such conduct must cease or the peaceable relations between the two countries would be at an end. The house was republican by more than one hundred and fifty majority, but it was my proud privilege to be one of the unanimous number that voted to sustain the bold language of that patriotic statement of Cleveland as we declared in unmistakable terms that, if necessary, we would defend the Monroe Doctrine by arms.

In 1907 a Greek by birth, an American citizen by naturalization, was taken captive by a bandit in Morocco named Rel-sultan. An exorbitant ransom was demanded for his release and threats to mutilate and kill him unless the same was promptly paid were made. The Sultan of Morocco was appealed to, who temporized and promised and parleyed, but did nothing. Finally John Hay, then Secretary of State, sent this memorable message to the Sultan of Morocco, the shortest ever given by one nation to another: "Perdicaris alive or Rel-sultan dead." The effect of that message was magical. In forty-eight hours Perdicaris was free, sailing in a ship bound for America to meet his family and friends. Once again the doctrine that American citizens must be protected even at the cost of war was maintained by the United States. At about this time another great power, Germany, sought to interfere in the affairs of Venezuela, thinking that they could accomplish what Great Britain failed in doing. Then the President of the United States, a man with whom I have not always agreed, but whose patriotism is above question, Theodore Roosevelt, gathered together almost the entire Navy of the United States under Admiral Dewey, then quickly notified the German Ambassador that unless the movement was renounced by his government, should start, the American Navy, under the command of the hero of Manila Bay, would sail

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Dr. Edwin B. Hexson, superintendent of the San Francisco Police, residing at the Elks club, was killed one woman was fatally injured and four other persons were hurt in an automobile crash at Van Ness avenue and Bush street at an early hour this morning.

Following an investigation by the police the drivers of both machines were charged with manslaughter. The injured are:

THE INJURED.
Mrs. Mattie Rowley, 757 Rush street; broken hip, lacerated scalp, internal injuries; will die.
Miss Vera Adams, actress, 22 years old, daughter of Mrs. Rowley; bruises and abrasions of the body, wrenched back, suffering from shock.
Miss Ruth Shipman, stenographer, 19 years old, 124 Clement street; lacerated forehead, cut neck, severely bruised.

Harry J. Bowen, 1530 Taylor street, machinist; lacerated hip, compound fracture of the nose, lacerated ear, cuts and bruises.
Albert D. Dwyer, 2295 Buchanan street, salesman; lacerations and bruises.

Harry Zohler, of 2470 Clay street, was driving the machine in which Dr. Hexson, Bowen, Mrs. Rowley and her daughter were passengers. The car was going down Bush street and had crossed half-way over Van Ness avenue when it is claimed, the other automobile, with Brandt at the wheel, with Miss Shipman beside him, struck him in the rear. The Zohler car was spun around like a top and crashed into a concrete lighting pole. Every one of the occupants save the driver was thrown out. Dr. Hexson was run over against the pole, his skull was fractured and he died at 3:30 p. m. Mrs. Rowley was crushed between the wheel of the car and the curb and her hip and ribs caved in. It is believed that she cannot recover.

UNABLE TO MOVE.

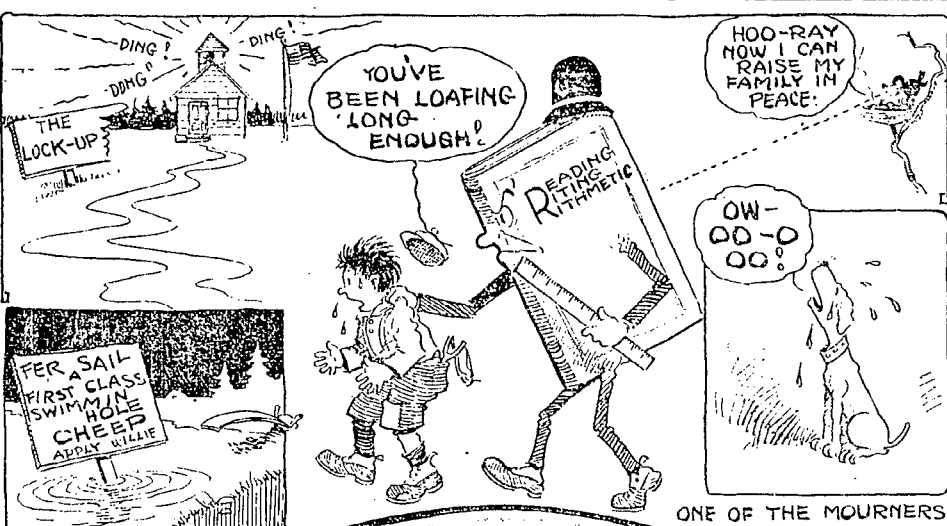

Of the others hurt, Miss Adams and Miss Shipman were unable to leave the Central Emergency hospital. The accident occurred a half-block from the Bush-street station and a squad of police quickly reached the scene and cared for the injured. Following an investigation it was decided to arrest both Zohler and Brandt and they were booked on charges. There were a half-dozen witnesses to the accident, who state that both machines were going at a terrific clip. The cars were jammed into a mass of twisted steel and splintered woodwork and the wreckage littered the street.

Dr. Hexson was 40 years old and prominent in the B. P. O. E.

RIGHT ARE INJURED.
VALLEJO, July 31.—Four persons were seriously injured and four others incurred minor hurts when an automobile and a motorcycle collided on the State Highway two miles from Cordelia.

Eben Morton of Benicia, who was riding his motorcycle with Mrs. Nelson, probably has a fracture of the skull. Nelson's right leg was broken. Six men and women, occupants of the automobile, received their injuries when the machine overturned after colliding with the motor-

FOUR NEAR DEATH.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Four men narrowly escaped death at Geary and Webster streets yesterday when a jitney bus, in which they were riding, crashed into an inbound Geary street car.

The force of the collision hurled the automobile against a telephone pole, throwing its occupants into the street.

WRECKED WAGON: DRIVES AWAY.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Otto H. Harrison, 42 Harrow street, was arrested yesterday on two charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated. On Market street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, he ran into a wagon, the driver of which, Michael Dobson, 168 Pfeiffer street, was thrown to the pavement and injured. Harrison drove off without stopping to investigate, but was arrested later.

Department Estimates: 25,000 Are to Register

Oakland public schools opened this morning. More than 1000 students waited outside the Oakland Technical High school for the doors to open.

Miss Johanna Missbach, of 465 Forty-second street, was the first in line, having waited since 1 o'clock this morning.

Bernard Vincent, of 7414 Lockwood street, was the second in line, appearing before 5 o'clock.

A large increase in attendance at all public schools is expected and the teaching staffs of all high schools have been increased. The staff at the Technical High school being doubled. Some 25,000 pupils will re-enter the schools and a proportionate number of new students have enrolled.

There is an increase of 1500 pupils in the elementary schools and an increase of 500 students in the high schools over that of the previous term, according to the Board of Education.

TECHNICAL CROWDED.

"By Tuesday evening we will have enrolled approximately 2000 students," said Vice-Principal William F. Ewing of the Oakland Technical High school today.

"We are disposing of them as fast as possible by giving them numbered cards and allowing them to return at 1 o'clock today and then fill out their programs."

The present enrollment is representative of practically every state. We have had interviews with prospective pupils from New Mexico, Nevada, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Arizona and from almost every city in California.

The Oakland pupils, of course, are given the preference and it is to them we will give the advantages. After all of the local boys and girls have been enrolled the others will be taken care of.

"We have formed three lines at the center and wing entrances of the school. In one line all pupils from Oakland schools who have complied with entrance requirements. In the second line are those to take examinations for entrance, and in the third line are all Piedmont and Alameda pupils or those residing in districts where no high school is in excess."

"Our program this year will be very

Enrollment at the Oakland High school will be normal, according to the board, and few changes have been made in the faculty.

ALAMEDA SCHOOLS OPEN DOORS.
ALAMEDA, June 31.—The Alameda schools opened today after two long summer vacations. The new night high school, the new machine shop practice in the high school manual training department, and the foreign classes at the High school and at Longfellow school, both Gregg and Foster, systems of shorthand are taught in the commercial classes.

The new night high school provides a regular four-year course, with high school diploma at the close. It also provides a two-year commercial course and a one-year course in bookkeeping.

MANY AT SAN LEANDRO.
SAN LEANDRO, July 31.—A record attendance of pupils will probably be registered at the grammar school, which opened today after vacation. Although the Central school has long since failed to furnish sufficient accommodation for the increased number of scholars, all the classes will be accommodated there until the two new ward schools, now nearing completion, are ready for occupancy.

ASK CITY TO SHUT DOWN 22 SCHOOLS

Dr. Kirby B. Smith, Head of Health Department, Says Buildings Are Center for Infantile Paralysis to Foster

Recommendation Is Made to Board of Education to Close Edifices Until Sanitary Conditions Can Be Remedied

Dr. Kirby B. Smith, city health officer, recommended to the Board of Education today that twenty-two Oakland schools be closed until the sanitary and sewage systems of the buildings be replaced or repaired, alleging that they are breeding places for children's diseases. The recommendation is made in a letter to Daniel W. Pratt, business manager for the Board of Education.

The schools named by Dr. Smith as possible disease centers are the Campbell, Lacey, Elmhurst, Franklin, Frick, Fruitvale, Grant, Harrison, Hawthorne, Highland, Intermediate, Lafayette, Laurel, Lincoln, Old Lockwood, Manzanita, Melrose, Melrose Heights, Oakland High, Piedmont, Prescott and Sequoia. Some of these schools are new buildings, having been erected with moneys provided in the last school bond issue.

"I wish to go on record in regard to this," Dr. Smith's letter reads, "for these schools are absolutely insanitary, and should instantly be closed. Typhoid fever, etc., become epidemic. These schools are positively dangerous, and to say that the present sanitary system should be removed at once is putting it very mildly. These buildings, by rights, should be closed until these conditions are remedied."

Dr. Smith has just completed a personal inspection of the sanitary systems in all of the schools of the city. The conditions reported obtain in about one-half of the city's entire list of public schools. The schools opened today. The letter will be presented by Pratt to the school directors at their meeting next Thursday afternoon.

"These conditions are appalling," Dr. Smith said today. "Should an epidemic of infantile paralysis such as has invaded the East visit Oakland these schools would offer splendid centers for the dissemination of the disease germs. These schools should be closed at once, and kept closed until the insanitary conditions are done away with and replaced with sanitary systems."

HAYWARD SCHOOLS OPEN.
HAYWARD, July 31.—The Hayward high and grammar schools opened today after vacation, with large attendances. Both schools will close down tomorrow again for another two weeks' vacation, giving the pupils, many of whom work in local canneries during the summer, an opportunity to continue at work until the fruit season is over. The schools should be open for one day in July in accordance with the teachers' salary regulations.

The basement of the grammar school was altered during vacation to make room for domestic science and manual training classes which have been added to the curriculum. New teachers have been added to the staff to take charge of the new classes.

Torturici Trial to Start Next Week

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—James Geffene, who the police say is Pietro Torturici, accused of the murder of William "Lardo" April 5, 1905, appeared in Superior Judge Griffin's court this morning for trial. Owing to the absence of Judge Griffin the case was continued for one week.

Geffene is relying on an alibi furnished by Frank Duffner, who claims that Geffene worked on his ranch near Kansas City at the time of the commission of the crime. Today this was somewhat qualified by the receipt of a communication by the clerk of Judge Griffin's court to the effect that the Duffners were not given a deed to their property until 1905, a year later than they claimed, in affidavit furnished Geffene's attorney. Their error, it is believed, was caused by the fact that the original deed to the property was dated November 1, 1904.

VICTIM RECOVERING.
S. W. Martin, 925 East Twelfth street, is recovering today from injuries sustained last night when he was run down by an automobile driven by C. E. Hughes, 1020 Sixteenth street. He was taken to the Emergency hospital, where it was feared that he had received a fractured skull.

To the voters of Oakland: Defeat the recall election by voting "No" on August 1 and keep Oakland where she belongs, in the class of a large commercial and enterprising city. W. Campbell, general market, Fourteenth street.—Advt.

Vision improved by new double vision lenses.

Newly patented double vision lenses called "Caltex Optics" are meeting with wonderful success, particularly with people who have found it impossible heretofore to wear double vision lenses. The "Caltex" are actually ground from one piece of clear and perfect optical glass, making them absolutely free from all color distortions and other defects found in the old style bifocals. There are no other bifocals being made in the world today like them. On account of the improved process of manufacture, perfect double vision lenses are the result and clearer vision obtained. There are limitations of this wonderful lens being offered, so insist upon having the genuine "Caltex Optics" Bifocals. Made at the California Optical Co., 1221 Broadway, Oakland; 181 Post St. and 2508 Mission St., San Francisco.—Advt.

Auto Speeders Are Not Women 6 Months' Record Show All Men

HAYWARD, July 31.—A woman speeder is and will always remain a novelty—something uncommon.

Deputy District Attorney M. J. Clark says so and he ought to know, for he prosecutes speeders in Alameda county and has not been required to take action against any woman for speeding during the summer. Hundreds of from fifteen to seventy speeders sentenced in the four speeders' courts weekly consisted entirely of men.

"Although many women drive automobiles they very rarely give the speed cops an opportunity to make an arrest," said Clark. "Women drivers are always more careful and cautious than men. Natural timidity is probably largely responsible for the moderate rate at which they invariably drive. It would be better for all concerned if men would follow the example of women motorists."

Of the twenty speeders arrested during the past week a number of whom were tried today here and at Pleasanton, all were men.

The few women who have been arrested for speeding during the past year have made themselves still more conspicuous as exceptions by their strange excuses. One fair motorist who was led into a race by a speed cop and going at a forty-miles-an-hour clip waxed indignant over being caught by such an "unfair" method. Another complained that her speedometer was broken, and she was going at under the circumstances. A third (female) speeder claimed she was going down hill (at forty-five miles an hour) with her engines shut off, and that, therefore, she could not be held for speeding. The magistrate held a different view.

Tattooed Apache Is Clew to Big Ring

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—As an aftermath of the capture here of Charles Apache, known as the "Tattooed Apache of Paris," who is accused of white slavery, government agents and upper office detectives raided the St. Paul Hotel, 355 Kearny street, this morning and arrested ten men, all of whom will face deportation.

It is claimed that they are all of French birth and that they have been taking money from women employed in the hotel.

Detective Sergeant Thomas Furman and Secret Service Agents Bryant and Dolly led the raiders. All the men gathered in the rooming house and their right to be in this country will be investigated. They gave the following names: Henry Voltaire, Joseph Glanville, Albert Fournier, Eugene Vernet, George Smith, Peter Duhamel, John Bruhn, David Davis, Charles Dixon and Alfred Siverson.

ENTERTAINMENT COMES HIGH.
George H. Thomas, of 117 Seventeenth street, sought entertainment in San Francisco last night. He visited the Panama cafe at 155 Mason street, and was there so well entertained by a blonde entertainer that he did not notice it when she took an endorsed check for $11.75 and $20 from his pockets. The San Francisco police are looking for her.

GIRL SENT TO HOME.
AUBURN, July 31.—Beatrice Powers, complaining witness against Russell Miller of Grass Valley, convicted of wronging the girl, has been committed to the Sisters' Training School, San Francisco.

TO HOLD INQUEST.
Heart failure is believed to have caused the death of Dennis Tasker, a porter, 3522 Market street. He was found in an unconscious condition in a rooming house at 438 Eighth street late yesterday afternoon, and removed to the emergency hospital, where he died shortly after admission. He was 50 years old and is survived by a son. An inquest will be held.

284 DIE IN CHICAGO AS HEAT TOLL

Cooler Weather Affords Relief for People of Middle West, Where for Four Days There Has Been Great Suffering

Records for High Temperature for Years Have Been Broken in Many States and Death Rate Reaches Large Mark

CHICAGO, July 31.—Cooler weather was in sight for the Middle West today after a day of record heat. A cool wave, according to the weather forecaster, will hit this section tonight. Today it will be cooler than yesterday but still hot.

Deaths toll in Chicago yesterday from the heat was 117. This makes a total of 284 deaths in Chicago in the last four days as a result of the heat. Ninety-nine babies have died since Friday night. The number of deaths in other cities throughout the Middle West as a result of the heat were not obtainable. It was estimated, however, that they would add at least 150 to the list. Milwaukee alone reported twenty-two deaths yesterday. Sunday was Milwaukee's hottest day in forty-five years. It was 102 degrees by the government thermometer. Heat records for Chicago were smashed as far back as 1901. A temperature of 101 was recorded in July, 1901, the mercury registered 102 degrees.

So great was the jam at bathing beaches here that police reserves were called to clear the streets leading to the beaches.

Gary, Ind., was the hottest place on the map with 116. Three died from the heat there. It was comparatively cool along the Mexican border. El Paso and San Antonio registering 88.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Cool high winds, sweeping out of the northwest, will bring relief from the hot wave to the lake region and the country between the lakes and the Rockies, the weather bureau said today.

The east is to get its share of warm weather at once. It warmed up today and will get warmer, it was said. That prediction held good for the east, south, Ohio valley and country between the lakes and the Rockies, the weather bureau said today.

DEER HUNTING SEASON OPENS IN TWO DISTRICTS TOMORROW

Plenty of Game Is Reported, and Many Are Expected to Hunt

Thursday will witness the opening of the deer season in Districts No. 2 and 3 which roughly include the Coast Range counties, and hunters will be out in force to get the first shooting at the antlered game. Hunters must be careful to observe the law which prohibits the carrying of game from an open into a closed district, however, as the district in which Sacramento is located does not open until August 15.

PLenty OF GAME AVAILABLE.

Reports from the Coast Range as well as from other sections, report a plentiful supply of deer and good hunting. The demand for guns and ammunition has been very good and a busy season is looked for by the Fish and Game Commission.

HEAVY PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS.

"Heavy penalties cover all deer hunting violations," says George Neale of the Fish and Game Commission, "and I wish to state that the state patrol deputies are both numerous and active against the 'sooner' hunter who would 'sooner' steal from his law-abiding brother by sneaking in ahead of the season and cleaning up good pickings."

"True sportsmen are so generally down upon this kind of crookedness that information is freely given, and many convictions attest the truth that 'honesty is the best policy.'"

COOPERATION NEEDED.

All that is needed is cooperation between sportsmen and the Fish and Game Commission, both of whom work to the same end and that the fish and game of California may multiply to such an extent that they will prove a steadily increasing attraction, not only to the tourists, but to the resident hunting and fishing licensees, whose dollars finance all protection and propagation work in this state.

STATE DIVIDED CAREFULLY.

"The division of the State into game districts was done only after long study by the Fish and Game Commission, scientific experts, and intended to make the hunting period conform as closely as possible to the natural season when deer are in their prime as to horns and venison. Variations exist in the continental range of climate to be found in California, covering, as it does, the entire gamut from Sierras to sea and San Diego to Siskiyou, involving conditions of life beyond any one uniform seasonal law."

"Deer are reported as unusually plentiful this year in all sections of Northern California. Better respect than ever before."

SEVERAL SPECIES OF DEER.

"Several species of deer are to be found in the northern game district of California ranging from the 'mule' deer, possibly the largest species of deer to be found in all America to the small chaparral or brush deer. The 'mule' deer are to be found in various numbers in the 'lava beds' of Modoc and Lassen counties, the scene of the historical encounter between the troops of Uncle Sam and 'Capt. Jack' and his title of Modoc Indians. Individuals of the 'mule' species weighing as much as 400 pounds dressed are on record."

DEER OF LAVA BED.

"There is another large species of deer which inhabits the 'lava bed' and other sections of Northern California which is a cross between the mule and the black tail species. These deer are quite abundant possibly more so than the true 'mule' deer. These cross-bred deer will average about 250 pounds dressed and are of excellent meat. Unlike most cross-bred (hybrid) animals they reproduce themselves—a most singular and valuable species. The true black tail deer are to be found in all sections of Northern California, their range extending to practically every county of that section. The chaparral or brush deer ranges with the black tail possibly not to such a wide area. He is a small, weedy little chap who seldom ever attains a weight of more than one hundred pounds. More often not over 60 pounds. He is quick of movement, fleet of limb and it requires considerable skill and knowledge of woodsmanship to stalk him."

"But hunters, remember. Don't bring deer or any other kind of game from an open to a closed district. Sacramento will be in a closed district until August 15, and deer shot before that date cannot be brought here."

THE DISTRICTS OPEN.

District No. 2 comprises the following counties: Colusa, Glenn, Lake, Marin, Mendocino, Nevada, Solano, Sonoma and Yuba.

District No. 3 includes Alameda, Contra Costa, Fresno, Kern, Merced, San Benito, Santa Cruz, that part of Stanislaus lying west of the San Joaquin river, and Monterey. In these two districts the season is from August 1 to September 14.

THE CLOSED DISTRICT.

District No. 1 and district No. 22, which comprises the small section around Tahoe and Truckee, will be open from August 15 to October 14. No. 1 district includes Alpine, Amador, Butte, Calaveras, Del Norte, El Dorado, Fresno, lying east of the San Joaquin river, Humboldt, Inyo, Kern, lying east of Buena Vista, Lake and the Teton highway, Modoc, Mono, Nevada, Placer, Plumas, Sacramento, San Joaquin, Shasta, Kings, Lassen, Modoc, Marin, Merced, Sierra, Stanislaus, east of the San Joaquin river, Tehama, Trinity, Tulare, Tuolumne and Yuba counties. District No. 4 in Southern California opens September 1 and closes September 20.

GENERAL LAWS THE SAME.

The general laws are the same throughout the State. No deer, fawns or spotted bucks can be shot. Only two bucks per year are allowed and there can be no sale of the meat.

With the half way point in the Pacific Coast League race already passed and with the true calibre of almost each and every player thoroughly tested, custom tells the fans to wake up to the fact that now is the time to start picking mythical all-star teams. An enthusiast who signs himself "A Fan" is the first to send in his all-star outfit for our eyes to see.

First Base—(S. L.); second, Rodgers (P.); third, Bates (V.); short, Davis (O.)

Outfielders—Bodie (S. F.), Wille (P.), Walter (L. A.)
Utility—Gulsto (V.), Ryberg (V.), Ryan (S. L.)
Lining my lunch up in the most perfect batting order, I believe that few big league pitchers would be able to beat this team. Here is my batting order: Wille, cf; Walter, cf; Ryberg, 2b; Bodie, lf; Bates, 3b; Davis, ss; Gulsto and Ryan, pinch hitters.

CUTLER AND SANTEL CRACK PORTLANDERS TO MEET IN S. F.

Charles Cutler vs. Ad Santel is being forced to the fans at the San Francisco Athletic Club. Both men are veterans and Cutler met once before, when through an accident, Cutler fell through the ropes and sustained an injury to his back. He made it necessary to discontinue the bout. Cutler has entirely recovered from this injury, and will be in good shape to meet the little Trojan who has made himself such a big end with the San Francisco fans.

TAKING BIG CHANCES.

It is a great risk to travel without a little of "Chambers" (Chambers' Kidney and Bladder Remedy), as this preparation cannot be obtained on the trains or steamships. Attacks of bowel complaint, are often sudden and very severe. Everybody should be prepared for them. For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores.

WALT JOHNSON & CO. STOP INDIANS

It is peculiar how often the Washington club has cut in on the pennant chances of the Cleveland club. The games played this season between the two clubs would indicate that the Senators again can be relied upon to do a lot of damage to the Indians' pennant prospects. But in 1915, when Joe Coulton managed the Senators and LaJoie was making his greatest fight for a pennant at the head of the Naps, an important series in the latter part of the campaign resulted in three Washington victories to one for Cleveland. Cleveland lost the pennant that year by a narrow margin. In 1913, when the Naps were making their great bid under Birmingham's management, they went to Washington hoping to close the gap which separated them from the Athletics. Washington won five straight games.

Deminiscences of a Veteran Sporting Editor

By MR. MELBOON.

If you will ask any old sporting editor he will tell you that all sorts of funny people call on him seeking the bubble reputation, fame or notoriety.

The callers are of all sorts. Among them are young bull players who believe they can out-bitch Walter Johnson, or fighters who have fought, Sullivan and all the rest bested, even though they were as good today as their usual jump from the river to the top of the bridge.

"I want to bet you $100 to $10 that I can jump off the Leads bridge and into the Mississippi," said I.

"You're looking for a cinch," said I. "Well," said the young bridge jumper, "for that's what he was, 'what do you want to bet?'"

"I'll bet you $100 to $10," said I, "that you can jump from the river to the top of the bridge."

"Oh, ho," said he, "you're looking for a cinch."

"I have to," said I, "to keep up with fellows like you."

Once in a while, however, no matter how smart the sporting editor is, he gets stung.

There are even sporting editors in New York who have been handed the hot end of a proposition and these Gotham scribbles consider themselves very wise people in the world.

It was in the days when New York was on the verge of selling out anything and everything in the wrestling line at this time was looked on with favor so it was the glad hand which Jimmy White, the Greek athlete who called with a friend who introduced him to Jimmy as the greatest wrestler that ever happened.

White suggested to the gentleman's name. White suggested to the friend, and the friend who had forgotten the name for a moment, said:

"Oh, I forgot. It's Hercules. He calls himself the 'Horrible Greek.'"

To hear White tell all the other sporting writers, "the Horrible Greek" was to meet "us" and no one should miss getting into the Garden early.

Then came the big night and the Garden was jammed to its capacity.

Every Turk and every Russian and his brother were there to see the Russian eat Turk.

Every push cart man on the East Side was there.

Those who had the price were inside, those who couldn't get it remained out in Fourth avenue to cheer Hercules when he came to the ring.

The Greek demonstration had been planned in his honor.

The consulate and the Greek location in Washington were represented big, and the Greek colors—blue and white—were everywhere.

White, who always runs the show in the Garden, was pale and nervous, and was sweating blood when the Turk stepped in his corner scowling and looking a big and ugly as a mad elephant.

Then there was a hush and a stage wait, and from his dressing room on the second floor, Hercules, stripped except for his sandals and wrestling cloth of blue and white, appeared.

He came down the stairs in a rush that was executed as a bull dancer does the grand turn, on the tips of his toes.

As he moved but flung down the stairs and into the ring, the whole house shook with cheers.

Jim Corbett leaned over the edge of his box and roared approval of Hercules' move and his phrasing.

So old Homer John Kelly and Ed Johnston and Nat Goodwin and John V. Gates and the Wall Street crowd in the boxes.

There was a preliminary wrangle between the interpreter, and then Jim Corbett stepped in his corner scowling and looking a big and ugly as a mad elephant.

TRIBUNE'S PAGE OF BUSINESS MARKETS AND FINANCE

PROFESSIONAL AND IRREGULAR MARKET
Es Generally Strong Without Marked
Gains in Any Issue

NEW YORK, July 31.—In a market made up almost wholly of the professional element, prices, although at times showing marked activity, generally were strong without advancing to substantially better prices as compared with the closing of Saturday. There was no evidence of public participation while the larger Wall Street interests were not in evidence as market factors.

Transactions in the early trading generally were light in volume on a movement of prices that tended in the direction of higher levels in the greater number of issues. Modest weakness was reported in Third Avenue, but little of the stock came out.

Mineral shares were firm and in some cases substantially higher. While reactionary tendencies were reported in certain parts of the list in the early afternoon, the general market, however, continued to hold with operations extremely light. Traders for the most part were content to add materially to the business of the time, but the suggestion didn't take well enough to bring in any inquiry for the time shares, although Goodrich showed some firmness on traders' operations.

In a good part of the afternoon situation was reported in most of the market.
